Captain Warren S. Robinson

We sicerely dedicate the RECALL of 1929. His never ending efforts and ceaseless devotion have helped this academy to reach her goal. By his great part in all school activities he has gained the love and respect and admiration of the entire corps, and may his high ideals remain a standard at this school throughout the ages.

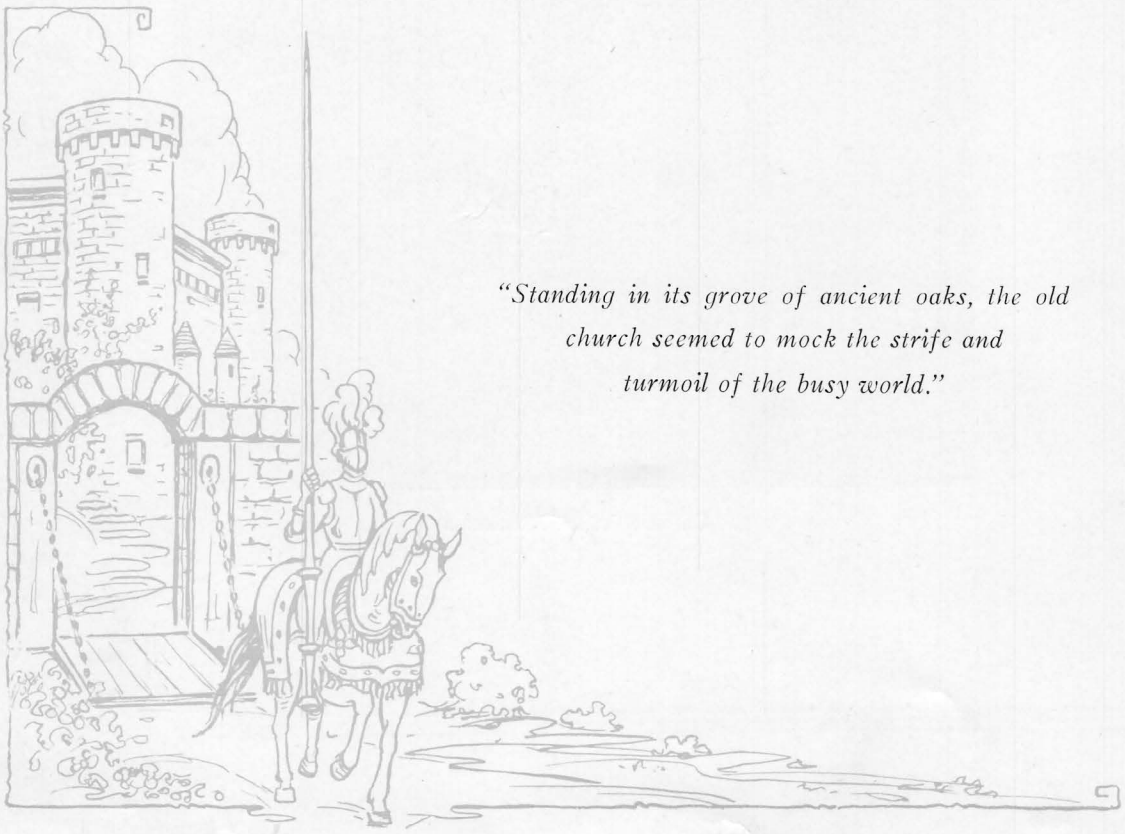

CAPTAIN W. S. ROBINSON

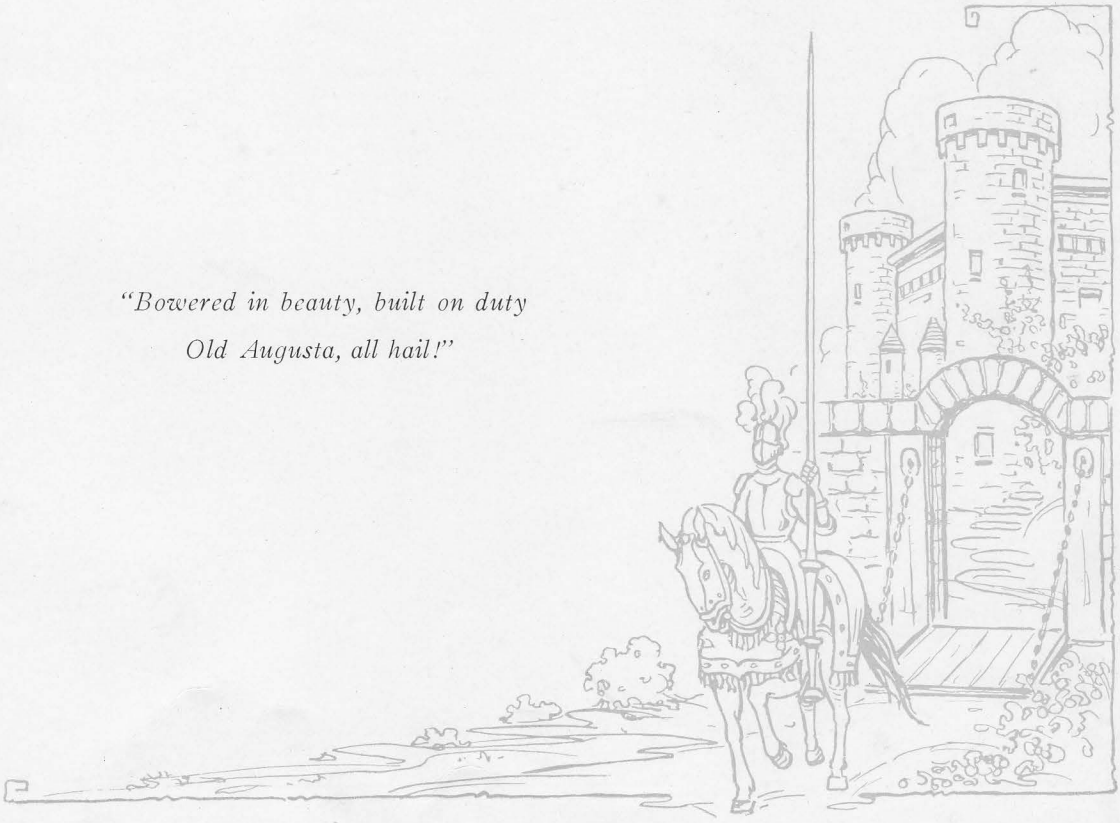

"Standing in its grove of ancient oaks, the old church seemed to mock the strife and turmoil of the busy world."

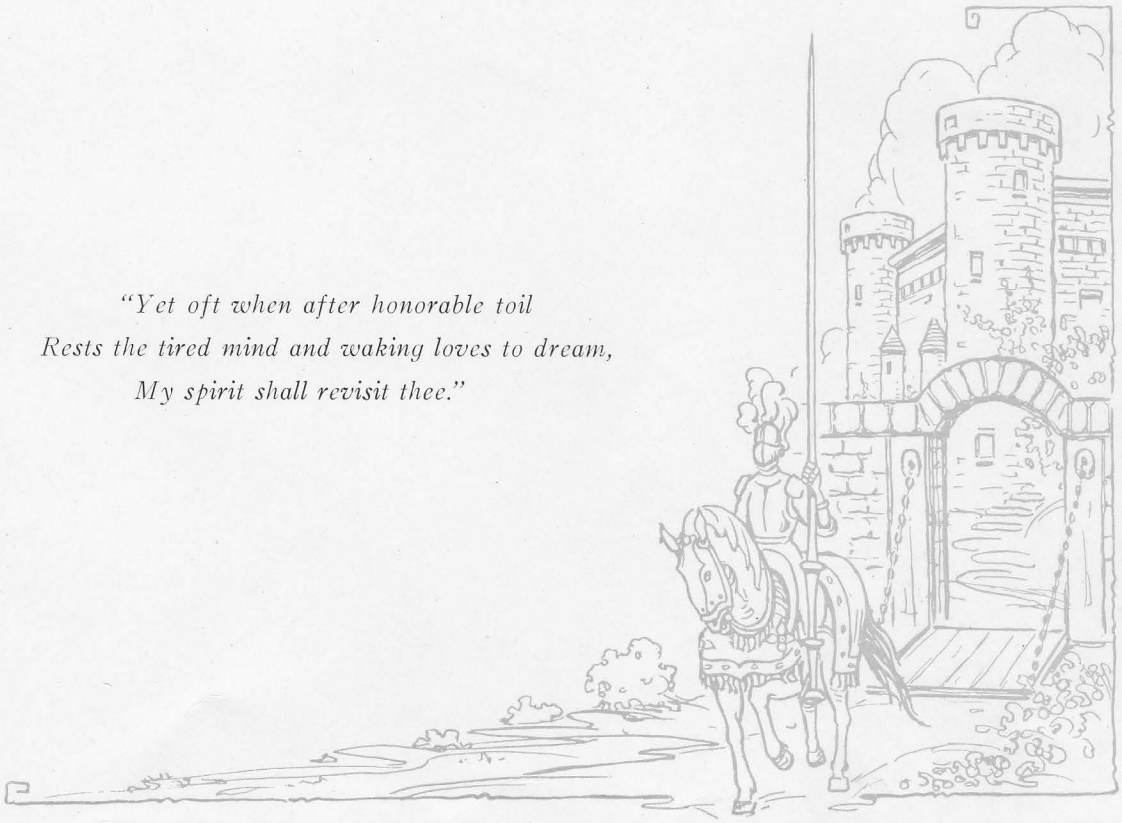

"Bowered in beauty, built on duty

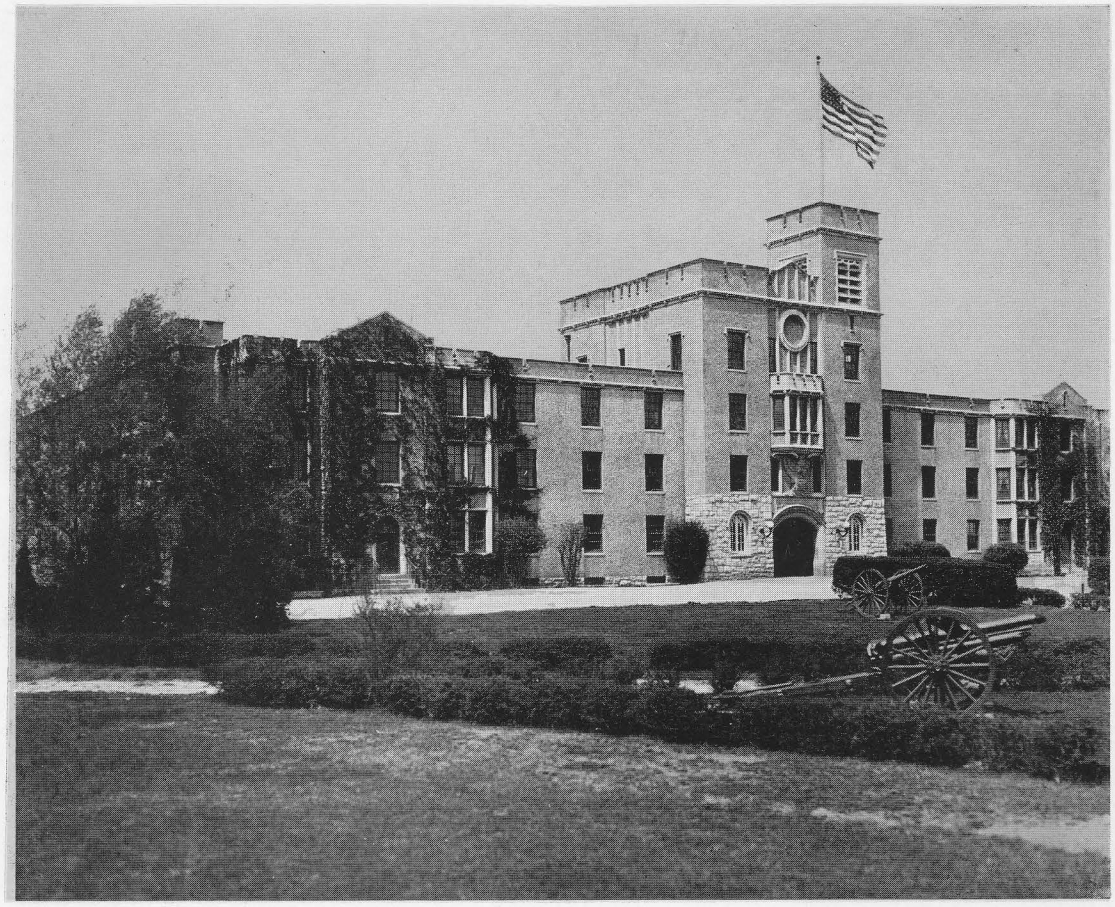

Old Augusta, all hail!"

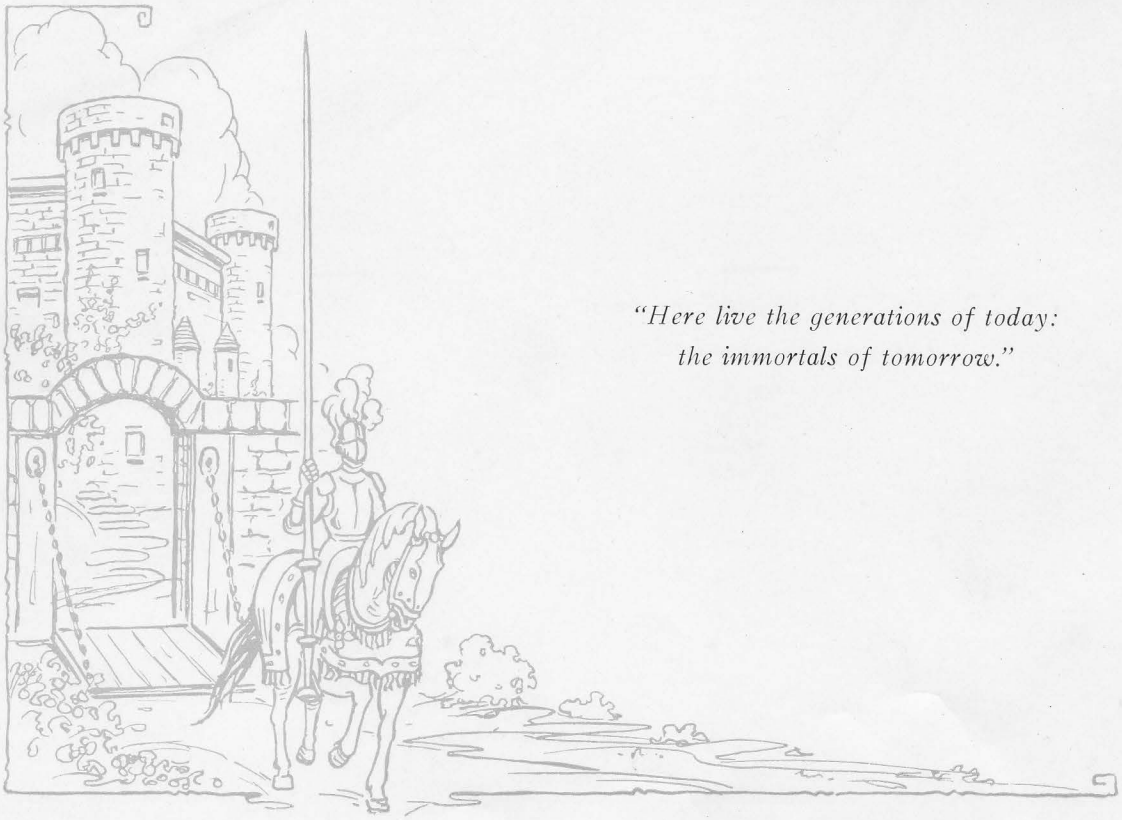

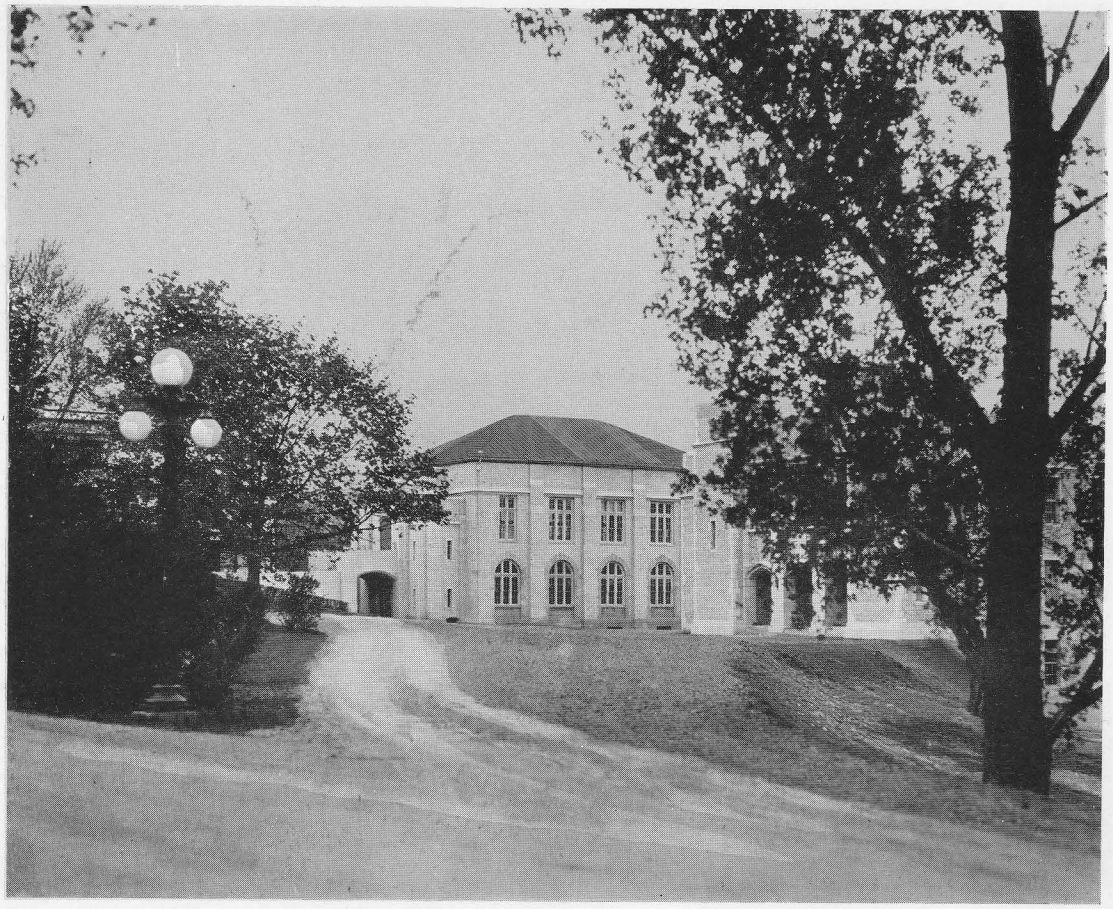

"Yet oft when after honorable toil
Rests the tired mind and waking loves to dream,
My spirit shall revisit thee."

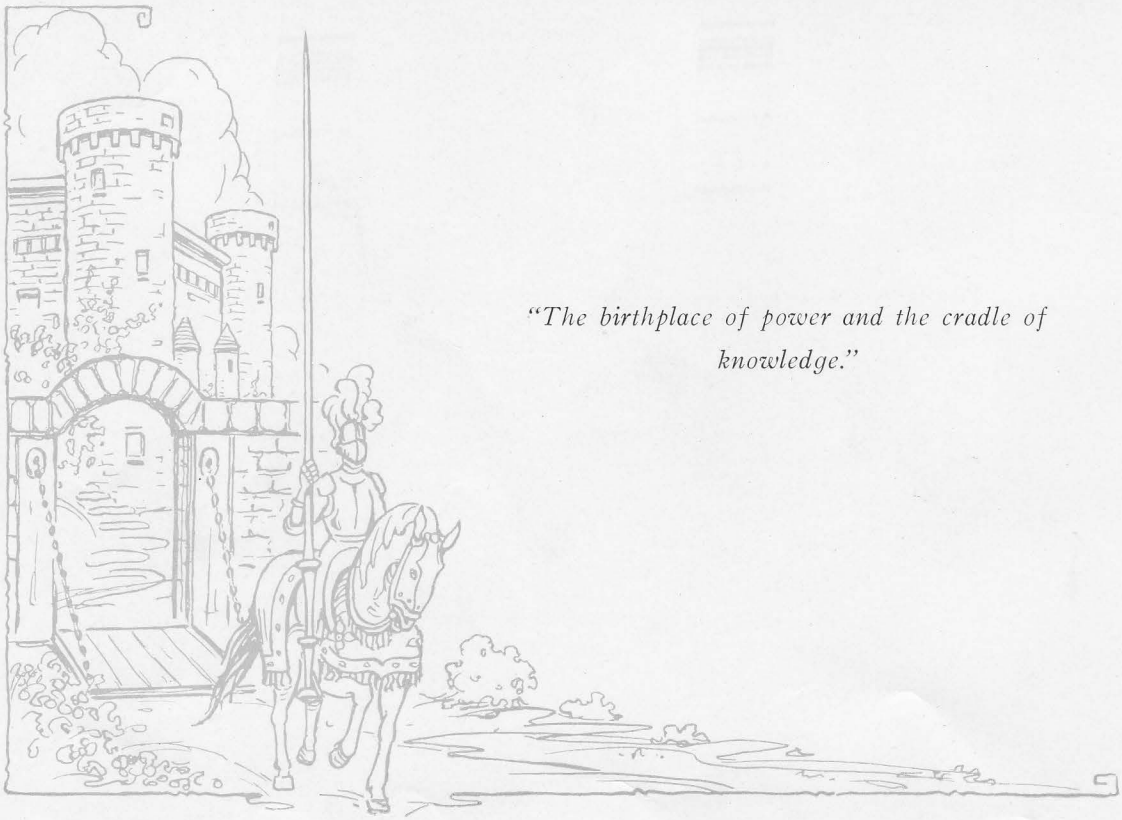

"Here live the generations of today:
the immortals of tomorrow."

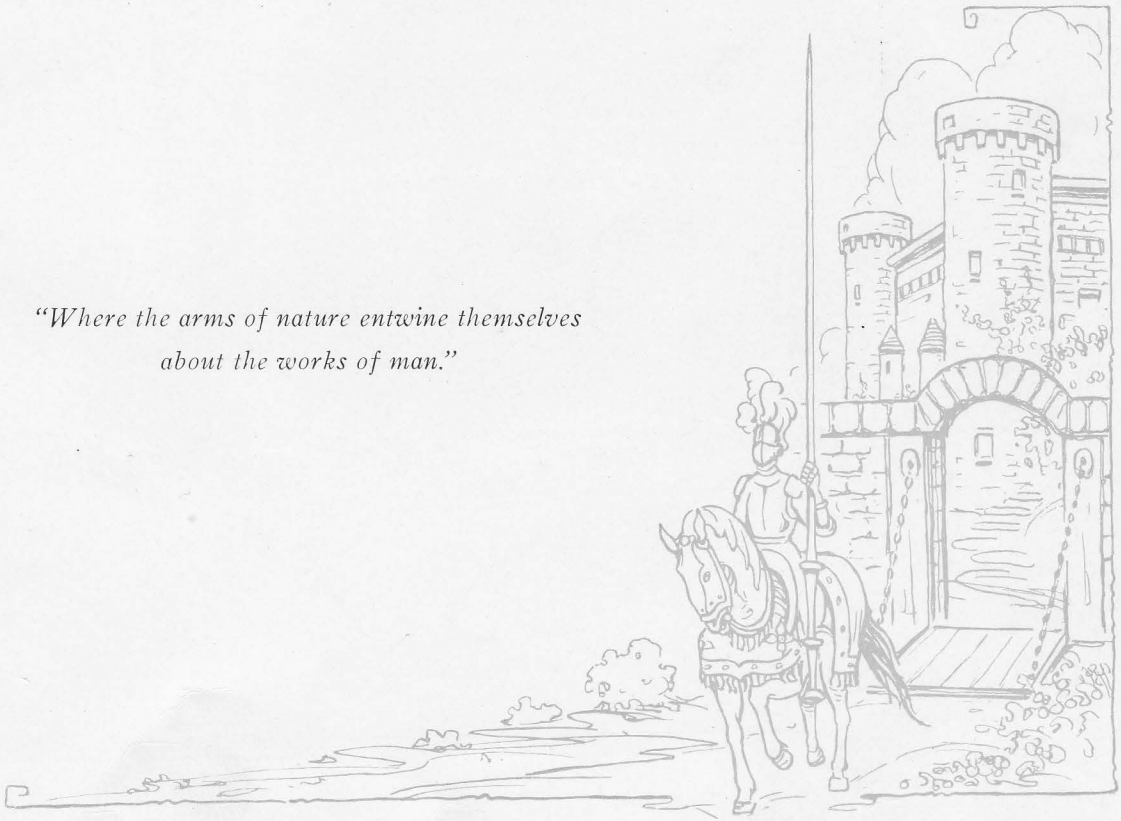

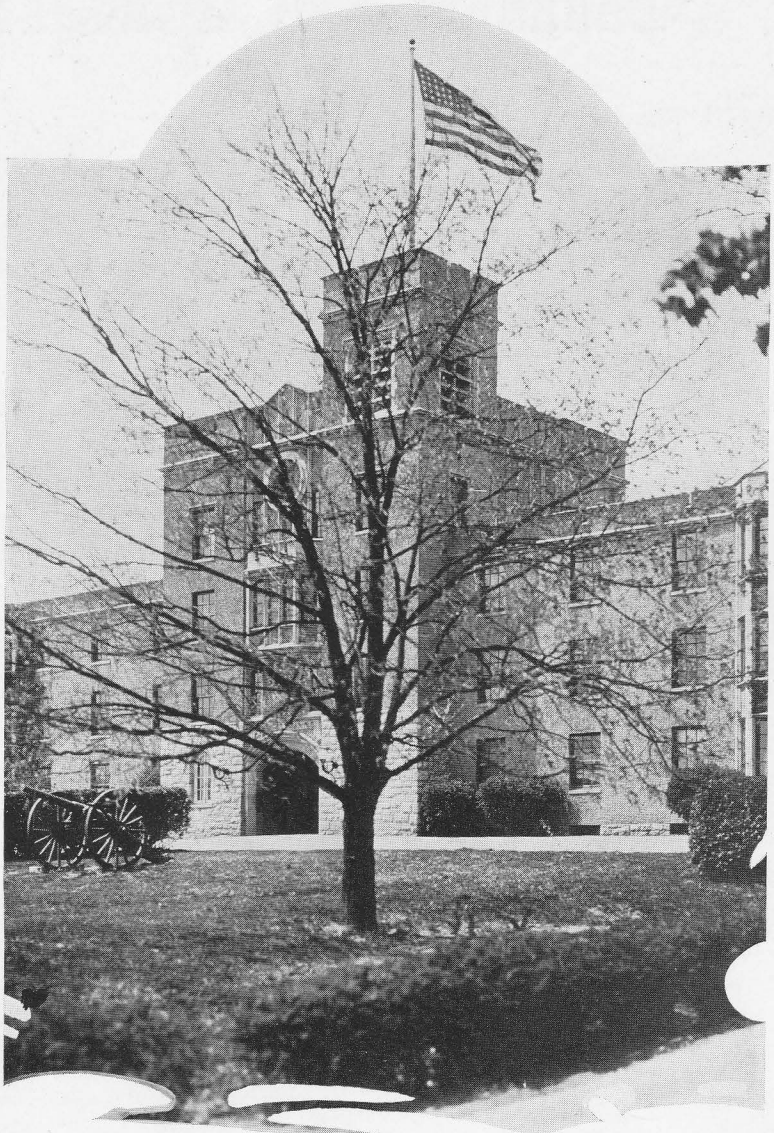

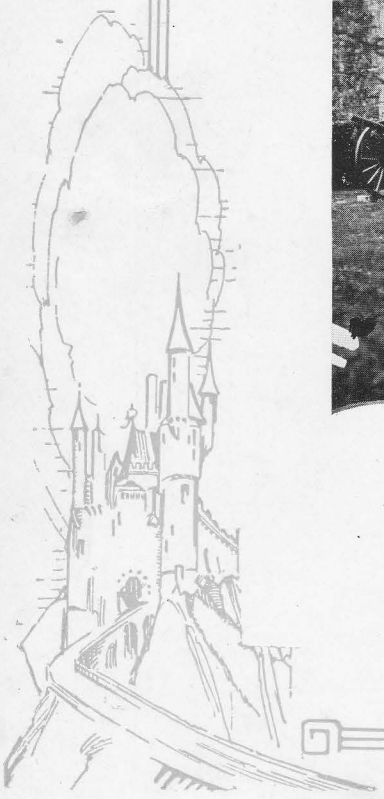

"The birthplace of power and the cradle of knowledge."

"Where the arms of nature entwine themselves about the works of man."

SECOND CLASSMEN

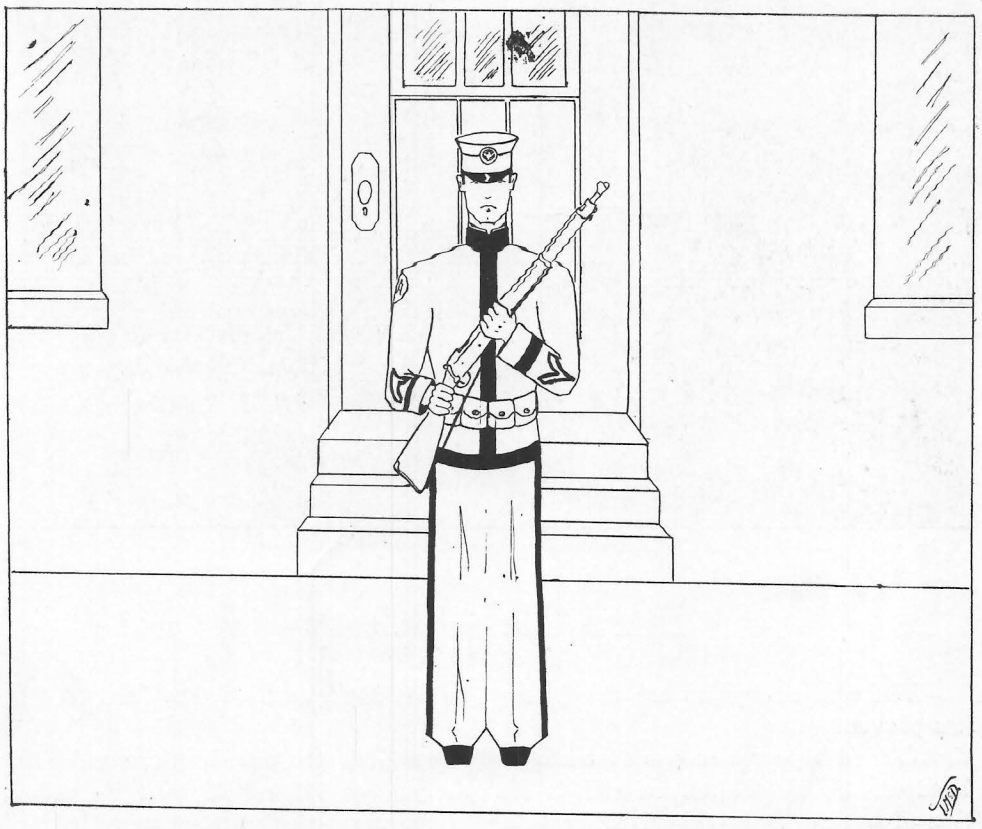

Second Class History

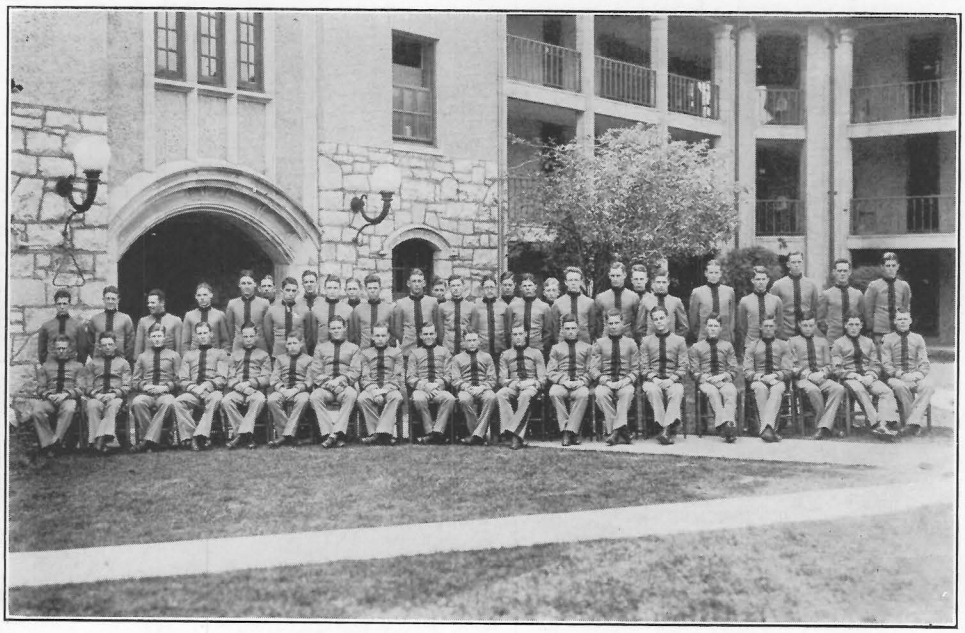

Being second class men and soon to be Seniors, we feel it beneath our dignity to boast of our achievements scholastically or athletically, but if one should care to look into the history of Augusta for the past three years, they would find a goodly number of our class on the role of honor in both classes and athletics.

We have done ourselves well as "RATS", Third Classmen and Second Classmen. We have helped add many victories and records to A. M. A.'s already long list in football, basketball, baseball, track, etc. We hope to so conduct ourselves in the one short year left to us as A. M. A. cadets that Augusta will have ample reasons to be proud of us.

THIRD CLASSMEN

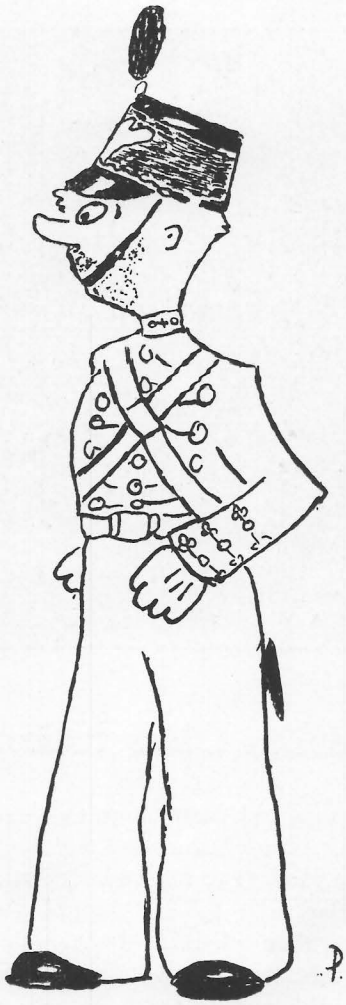

Third Class History

The first two years are the hardest, as the experience of the Class of '31 has proven.

Our first year was one of trials and tribulations for nine hectic months of Ratdom. So we entered the arch to start the year of '28 and '29 with the intention of sowing as we reaped, and making life as miserable for the Rats as it was made miserable for us, and the "Mister" will testify that we have succeeded. Through our foolishness and our playfulness we have caused Major Roller many worried days and sleepless nights, we have tried hard and nearly succeeded in driving our instructors distracted, but we hope that Major and the faculty will forgive us, as we meant no harm, but were only trying to keep up the reputation of the Third Classmen in years gone by.

We have furnished more than our share of stars to the gridiron, the basketball court, the diamond, and the cinder track, and we hope to do much better in the future.

Half of our history as Augusta Keydets is complete, although we have added but little to the history of A. M. A., we will try to do better in our Second and First class years.

RATS

Fourth Class History

We left our happy homes with happy hopes and great ambition. We swelled our chest with pride at the thoughts of the days to come when we would be Cadet Majors, stars of the football teams, and biggest social leaders that Augusta ever knew.

But from the instant when we entered the arch, our hopes and ambitions failed and died, as we realized that we were not to be known by what we hoped to be, but we were, Rats. We were soon to learn that the life of a Rat was not an easy one—but a hard, strenuous, outdoor life, carrying with it the essentials for the building of real men and A. M. A. cadets.

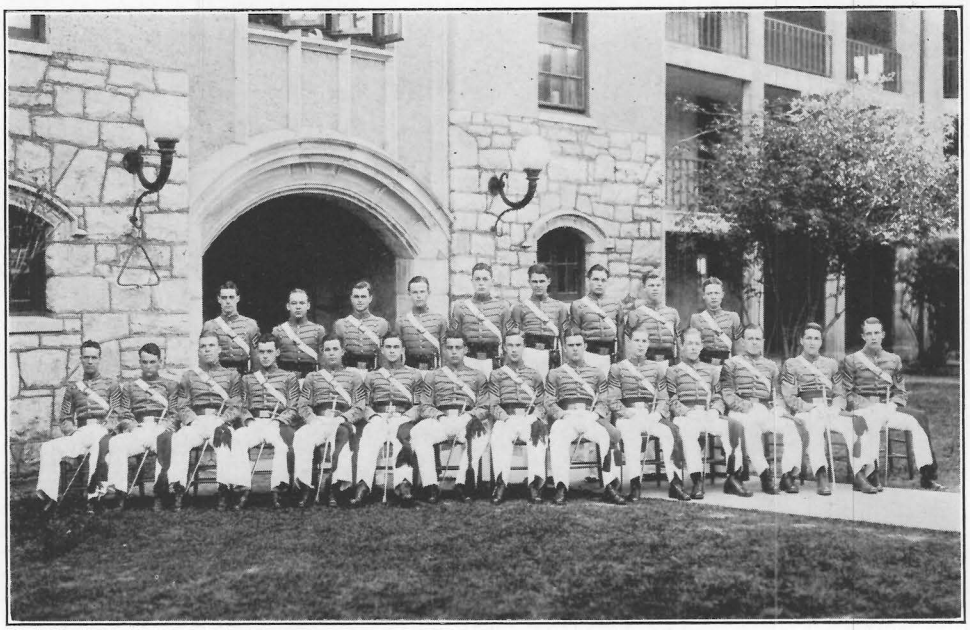

From the day of our first arrival, we made ourselves inconspicuous, and were known as Misters. We heard the voice of authority, we finned out, we ran errands, and went through the entire system.

At first our dumbness was amazing, but slowly we began to understand the Academy, and with that understanding there crept into our hearts an undying love and devotion for Augusta, and may we find the Class of '32 always conducting ourselves so that we may reflect glory and honor to our dearly beloved Alma Mater.

Football

THE Augusta Military Academy enjoyed one of the best seasons it has known in several years when it brought its football season to a glorious conclusion by trouncing Fishburne soundly to the tune of 32 to 7. It would be hard over a stretch of ten games to pick out individual stars, but the following men were outstanding: Bach, Malone, and Shaffer of the backfield; Capt. Payne, Harris W., Kelsey, and Byers in the line. All of these stellar performers played consistently; at times brilliantly.

On October 6th, Danville Military Academy was encountered on Lambeth Field, at the University of Virginia. The Danville team was large and well balanced and put up a tremendous fight for two quarters. After the half their defense wilted, due primarily to the poor physical condition of their players, allowing Shaffer to run up three touchdowns. Bach intercepted a Danville pass and ran for a touchdown but the score was disallowed; A. M. A. being off side. Malone featured in this game with several long runs. The final score: A. M. A. 20—Danville 0.

The third game of the season was played on October 13th, at Fork Union. In Fork Union we encountered a much superoir team than we had anticipated. The team was well balanced, the line heavy but mobile, the ends big and fast, the backfield versatile and shifty. Their fight and determination was worth at least another man on the team. The only score of the game came when Shaffer blocked a Fork Union punt and immediately thereafter Eanes slipped around our right end and scored on a wide end run. Kick after touchdown failed. The final score: A. M. A. 6—Fork Union 0.

Woodberry Forrest was met the following Saturday and the resultant score was anything but a source of pride to the followers of Augusta. The first half was evenly played. A typical kicking game was resorted to with the odds slightly in favor of Shaffer. Early in the third quarter Woodberry caught Eanes up too close to his line and passed over him for twenty-five yards. With two yards to go for a score they pushed it over on the third down for the first score. Augusta's morale seemed to have been dealt a staggering blow, for Woodberry marched straight down the field to a second touchdown. In the last two minutes Woodberry recovered an A. M. A. fumble and scored again. The final score: A. M. A. 0—Woodberry 20.

The Virginia Episcopal game this year was played at Lynchburg and resulted in the fourth A. M. A. victory in five starts. Virginia Episcopal completely outplayed us during the first half. The score at the half was 0-0. At the opening of the second half Byers, injured Peacock, but even though he was removed the Virginia Episcopal attack was sustained. The middle of the quarter found them on our ten yard line. They completed one tackle pass, and attempted another which was intercepted by Railey behind his own goal. Railey ran the whole length of the field for a touchdown. V. E. S. then elected to kick to us and Bach ran the kick off back through the whole team for a touchdown. After that Augusta scored almost at will. The final score: A. M. A. 34—V. E. S. 0.

The game with Greenbrier Military School was the greatest game of the season. The teams were pretty evenly matched and both sides played "heads up" football. Augusta drew first blood, scoring a touchdown in the first quarter on a split buck. Greebrier came back strong and rolled up three touchdowns in short order; the first, on a long pass to their left end standing in the end zone; the second on a recovered fumble and a fifty yard dash by Winters off tackle; and the third on a punt to Winters who returned it forty yards; and on the next play reeled off the remaining distance to the goal line. The score at the end of the third quarter was 19-7, in favor of the visitors. In the fourth quarter Back shot off left tackle for a touchdown, a beautiful run of sixty yards through a broken field. Shaffer missed the goal. With five minutes left to play Greenbrier punted to Railey who returned twenty yards. On a criss cross Shaffer ripped center for twenty more, and on the next play Bach galloped over for the third A. M. A. touchdown. Shaffer made good the goal. The score: A. M. A. 20—G. M. S. 19.

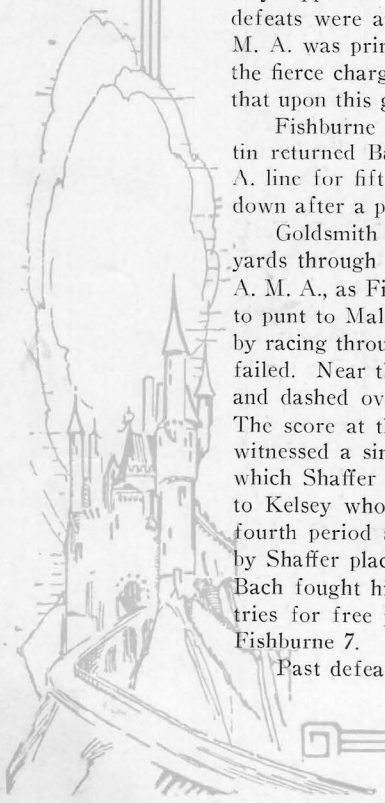

The Massanutten game was a nip and tuck affair. Bliss starred for Massanutten, Shaffer and Bach for Augusta. Massanutten threatened at all times but was not able to put across a touchdown. The lone Augusta score resulted from a long pass, Railey to Bach who was downed on the three yard line. On a fake criss cross Shaffer slipped through center for six points and kicked the goal. The score: A. M. A. 7—M. M. A. 0.

The traditional game with Fishburne of course closing with a crashing victory admirably topped off one of the greatest seasons ever enjoyed by an Augusta football team. Past defeats were avenged and obliterated in a deluge of touchdowns. There is no denying A. M. A. was primed for this game; the remarkable precision with which plays were executed the fierce charging, tackling and blocking displayed by eleven inspired men is ample evidence that upon this game alone the success of the season depended.

Fishburne drew first blood, securing a touchdown in the first five minutes of play. Martin returned Bach's punt to midfield. Goldsmith, Fishburne's star full-back, hit the A. M. A. line for fifteen yards and a first down. A pass Martin to Hoggard resulted in a touchdown after a pretty run by the latter. Fishburne made good the extra point.

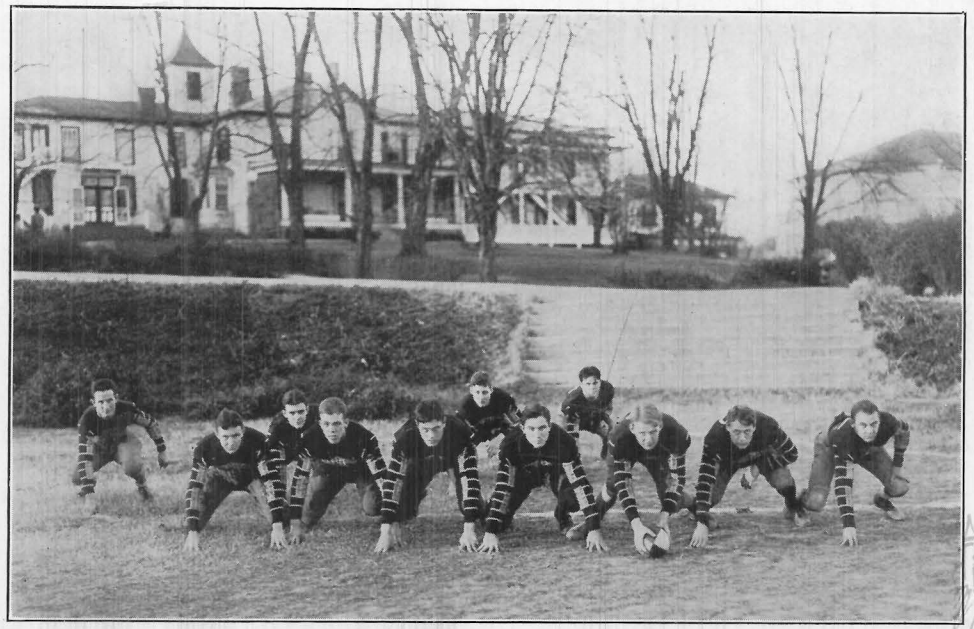

Goldsmith kicked short to Bovee who fell on the ball. On the first play Bach ran fifty yards through the whole team for a touchdown. Try for point failed, but was awarded to A. M. A., as Fishburne was off sides. Fishburne received but could not gain and were forced to punt to Malone who returned twenty yards. On the first play Bach repeated his first run by racing through the whole Fishburne team fifty-five yards for a touchdown. Try for point failed. Near the end of the half Byers, Augusta left end picked up a fumble near mid-field and dashed over for the third A. M. A. touchdown. Shaffer's toe added the extra point. The score at the half was A. M. A. 20—Fishburne 7. The third and fourth quarters each witnessed a single Augusta touchdown. In the third period after an exchange of punts in which Shaffer had a decided advantage over Goldsmith, Bach flipped a thirty-five yard pass to Kelsey who galloped unhindered across Fishburne's goal line. Toward the end of the fourth period alternate dashes by Malone and Bach interspersed with an occasional thrust by Shaffer placed the oval on Fishburne's twenty-five yard line. From this point of vantage Bach fought his way over on a single thrust for Augusta's fifth and final touchdown. The tries for free point in the second half were unsuccessful. The final score: A. M. A. 32—Fishburne 7.

Past defeats were swallowed up in victory.

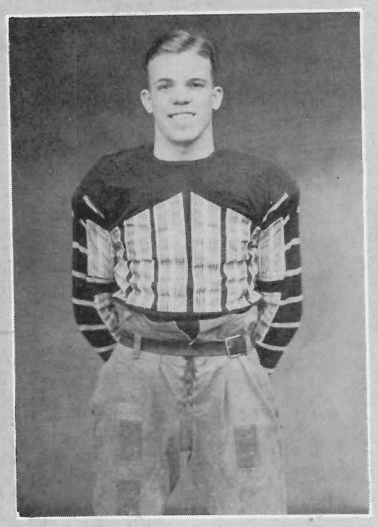

Football Team

The Team That Beat Fishburne

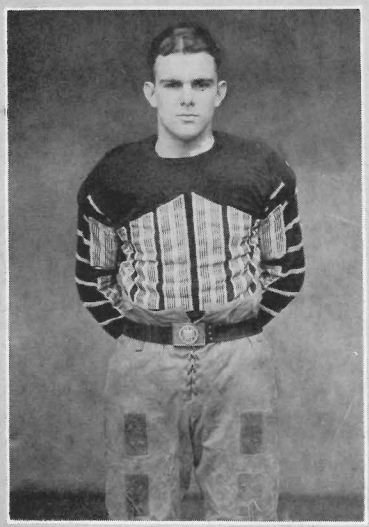

CHARLIE PAYNE

TACKLE—CAPTAIN

When some luckless player strayed into the path of this all-state tackle he met with a warm reception. When the stars stopped dancing in front of the eyes of this individual who would fain to flirt with death, he probably thought he had been playing with a tiger. Such was the fight and ability of our captain, Charlie.

Charlie combined an excellent knowledge of the game with an overdose of nerve and well trained muscle to make the best prep school tackle in Virginia. As captain of this year's team, he sat an enviable example of perseverance and hard work that would make a first class player of any young aspirant.

Gee! but we will miss Charlie next year.

RAILEY

QUARTERBACK—ASSISTANT CAPTAIN

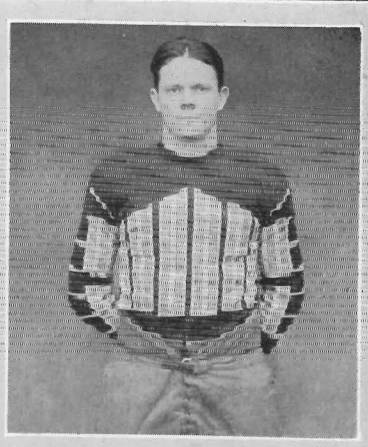

Merit started his gridiron history at Augusta four years ago when he signed up on the "peeps." He played two years as quarterback for this plucky little team, and soon proved himself to be real varsity material as second quarterback, and by the way, a real one. Merit easily won his monogram last year. This year one man and only one could have guided so successfully Augusta's best team since 1917. A level headed player who knew where to run his plays so well that every player on the team had faith in him. How else could a man be more worthy of his position as engineer and assistant captain of his team?

STANLEY BACH

HALFBACK

Stan has got us all guessing, first: where does he get that unlimited supply of energy? And how about all that speed (on the gridiron and elsewhere)? Some of us believe he eats dynamite three times a day, but as yet we haven't any authentic dope on any such unusual diets. However, the fact remains that Stan could be depended upon for a gain ranging from ten yards to a touchdown on the kickoff. Indeed, such performances as thirty, forty, fifty, and sixty-yard broken field sprints and a touchdown became quite common when Bach and a loose football got together. It was just bad business for an opposing team to even let him get started on a romp with Mr. Pigskin tucked under his arm.

We eagerly welcome Stanley back as captain of Augusta's team next year, and we feel sure he will again prove himself the best prep school halfback in the south.

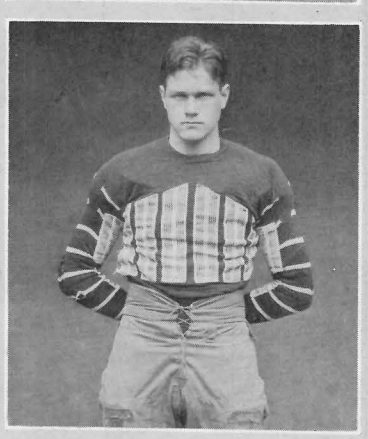

MICHAEL COPPS

"Mike"

TACKLE

Whether Mike was told to remove one man or three from the opposing line, made little difference to him. When the dust rolled away it was always evident that he had performed his duty well. Sad but certain for the opponent whom Mike removed, for he usually "stayed removed." He had a stiff-arm in the line that was literally a knockout punch, strength enough to tear a hole in a stone wall, and he was mean enough to eat barbed wire. Mike was a real asset to the team, and with joy and pride we say, "He'll be back."

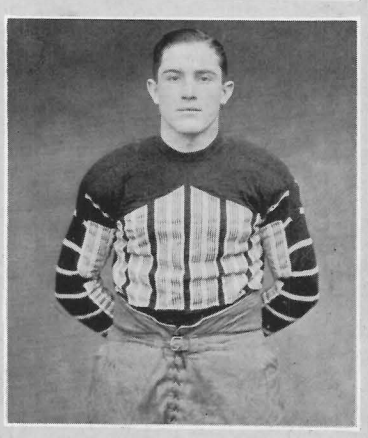

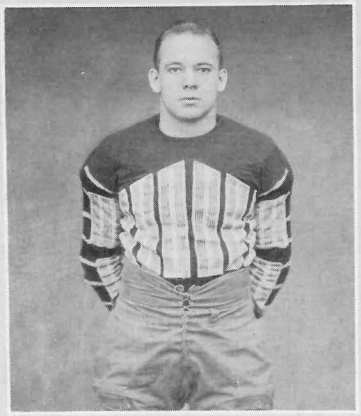

CLEMMER HARRIS

GUARD

Clemmer as a football man is an A. M. A. product, and we are proud of him. Such a rare combination of speed, weight, and drive is seldom combined in one man. In spite of his short, heavy build, he was one of the first men down the field on the kickoff. On the offensive his remarkable speed and strength opened gaping holes in the opposing line, and on the defense —well! such things as holes where Clemmer was supposed to be didn't exist.

We'll be as much at loss as a chain with a missing link without Clemmer next year.

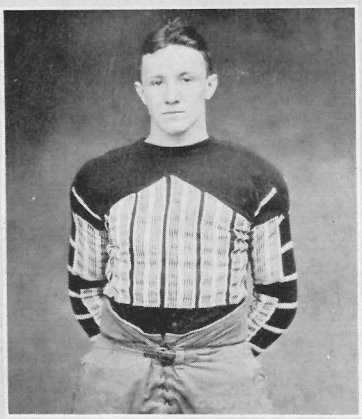

ASHBEY BYERS

"Kip"

END

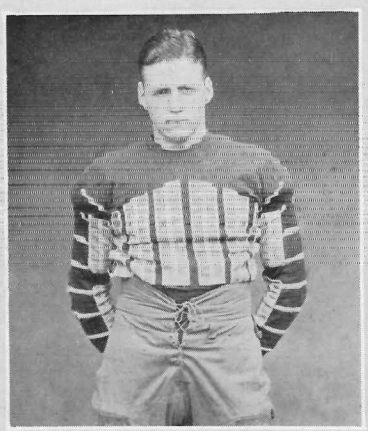

Kip started out this year in the backfield, but after the second game was sifted to left end, and there he stayed for the rest of the season, holding it down so well that he was picked as all-state end. Kip has a reputation of being a very hard tackler, and when he tackles the opposition realizes it's no tea party. He is always on the alert, and due to this, in the Fishburne game, he recovered a fumble and scooted twenty yards for a touchdown. He was one of the four boys on our team who were chosen on the all-state team. And we are proud of him for that fact. He has that bulldog tenacity which so characterizes a good end. We are looking forward for big things from Kip as assistant captain of the 1929 team.

DONALD KELSEY

END

Donald was one of our all-state ends and a better end than our quiet Donald was hard to find. He gained his recognition, not by any spectacular playing, but by his steady, good game. Never a talkative player, and it is a known fact that he never spoke more than three words a game. With him assuring us of his return, we know that our flanks on the football team are well protected, and woe be unto the opponents who try to circle his end next year.

GEORGE SHAFFER

"George"

FULLBACK

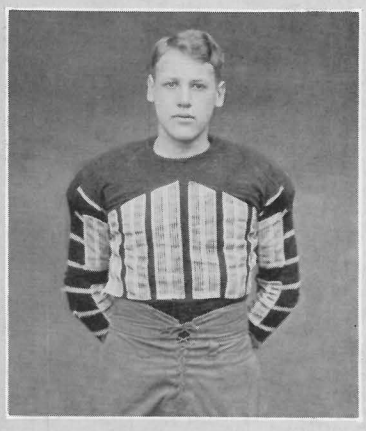

George was another Greensburgh talent who came to us with something of a football past. He soon won recognition throughout the state for his consistently good kicking and all round ability. He first attracted the attention of footballdom in the S. V. A. game at Charlottesville by his soaring punts and line plunges. As the season rolled on we grew more dependent on this big, good natured, curly headed fullback, and it is with sorrow we hear that he won't be with us next fall.

PAUL MALONE

HALFBACK

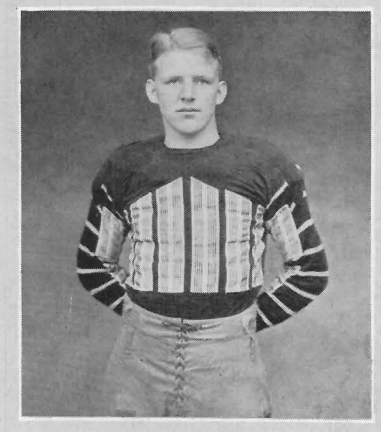

"Pat" was the most elusive and one of the fastest halfbacks in the state. Aside from this, he was the undisputed lightweight, and the pluckiest little half in Virginia. Though he played under the handicap of a previously injured shoulder, he was unanimously chosen for the second all-state prep school team. Many were the yards that he gained for his team this year, and it gives us a feeling of security to know that he will return to Augusta next fall. "Pat" is writing his history on a page that is usually reserved for big huskies, and that page is the space which lies between two painted goal posts: the football field.

BILL McINTYRE

GUARD

Bill came to us from Greensburg with a fine record as a football player. During the past two years he has certainly proven this to us. If it had not have been for Bill our line would have been much weaker and certainly left guard would have been, which he filled perfectly the entire season. We are sorry to hear that Bill is leaving us, but before he leaves we want to wish him best of luck, and are sure some college is getting a valuable guard.

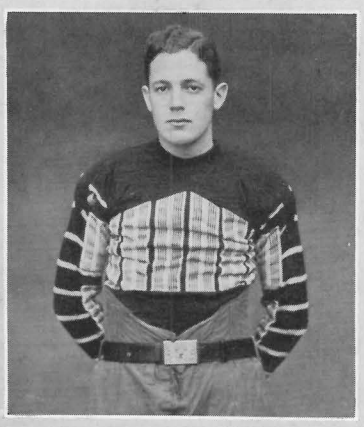

GENE BOVEE

CENTER

A bit of hard, green, unblemished fruit from sunny California, but sound to the core! Such was Bovee, but that's not all; Gene was "tough as nails," a hard worker, and always fought like a lion. These, combined with a level head and a willingness to learn, landed "Bouvee," as Captain Deane fondly dubbed him, the position as first center, before the season was half over.

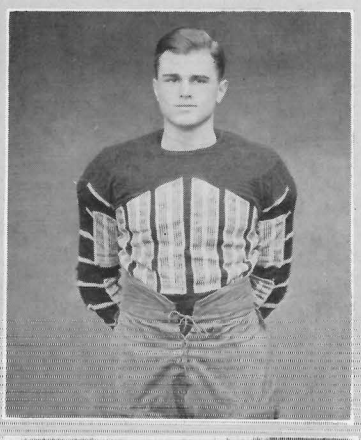

Gene won his spurs as a raw recruit to the gridiron this year. We are expecting even greater things of him next fall.

"CHARLIE" YON

TACKLE

Charlie is one of our players who rose from the ranks, or rather jumped. Last year he played on the "Tiger" team, but was not satisfied with it this year, so what should he do but apply for a position on the varsity, even though both tackles on it were letter men of high ability. At first he only played at irregular intervals, then he was given a chance to show his stuff in the V. E. S. game, which he did with fatal results to his opponents. In the Greenbrier game it took three men to tame him, and yet he made tackle after tackle. Against Massanutten he finally reached stardom.

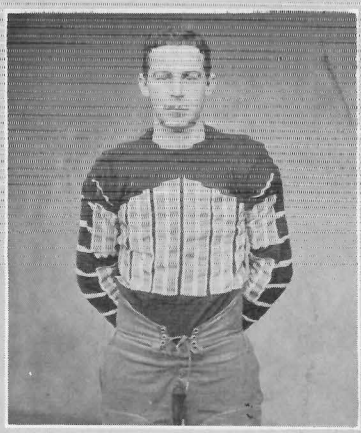

JAMES McKIM BELL, JR.

"Mac" "Barrel B."

GUARD

"Mac" fought his way from the bottom (peeps), where he enlisted for a guard position four years ago. In spite of the fact that two experienced guards were back this fall, Mac's persistent driving placed him well within grasping distance of a monogram. His steadfastness and sturdiness helped mightily in stemming the determined drive of Fork Union. He also did well in the V. E. S. encounter. The great size of Mac's lower extremities helped to successfully block or make a hole in the line, and next year we will indeed miss this sturdy Brazilian.

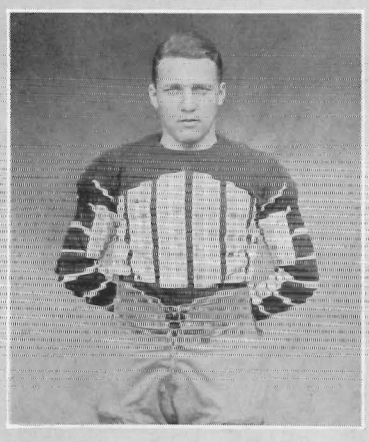

WALKER

HALFBACK

Because Ab is small just goes to show that he stands for quality, not quantity. He was one of our best reserve backs and proved his worth by playing some in nearly every game. He didn't carry the ball very far, but when he did, as in the Massanutten game, he hit the old line for some very substantial gains. His running interference was a marvel, and very rarely indeed did he fail to clip his man.

Ab, we certainly hope that you will be back with us next year and help us beat Woodberry Forest.

LOUIS BLACK

CENTER

Louis was certainly subjected to some severe competition last season. His position as center was indeed a contested one, and it was this stiff opposition that brought out the real stuff of which Black has a liberal share. Instead of grumbling, quitting, or even slackening his pace, he quietly settled down to hard work, and came through with flying colors. Now he is the proud possessor of a well deserved and hard won "A." It will be hard to fill the vacancy left by a worker like Louis, next year.

ROBERT WAINWRIGHT

"Sue"

CENTER—BACKFIELD

Who would believe that good natured and romantic Sue played football? Well, don't deceive yourselves. Sue played a good all round fighting brand of football, and he did equally well when shifted from the position of center to the backfield. Speaking of handicaps and disadvantages, Sue was really exposed to them. Letter men with a football past vied with him for every position he sought. Thus it is very easy to see that he had to fight for his every bit of prestige.

We hope Sue will decide to come back next fall.

JOHN WADE BELL

"John Wade"

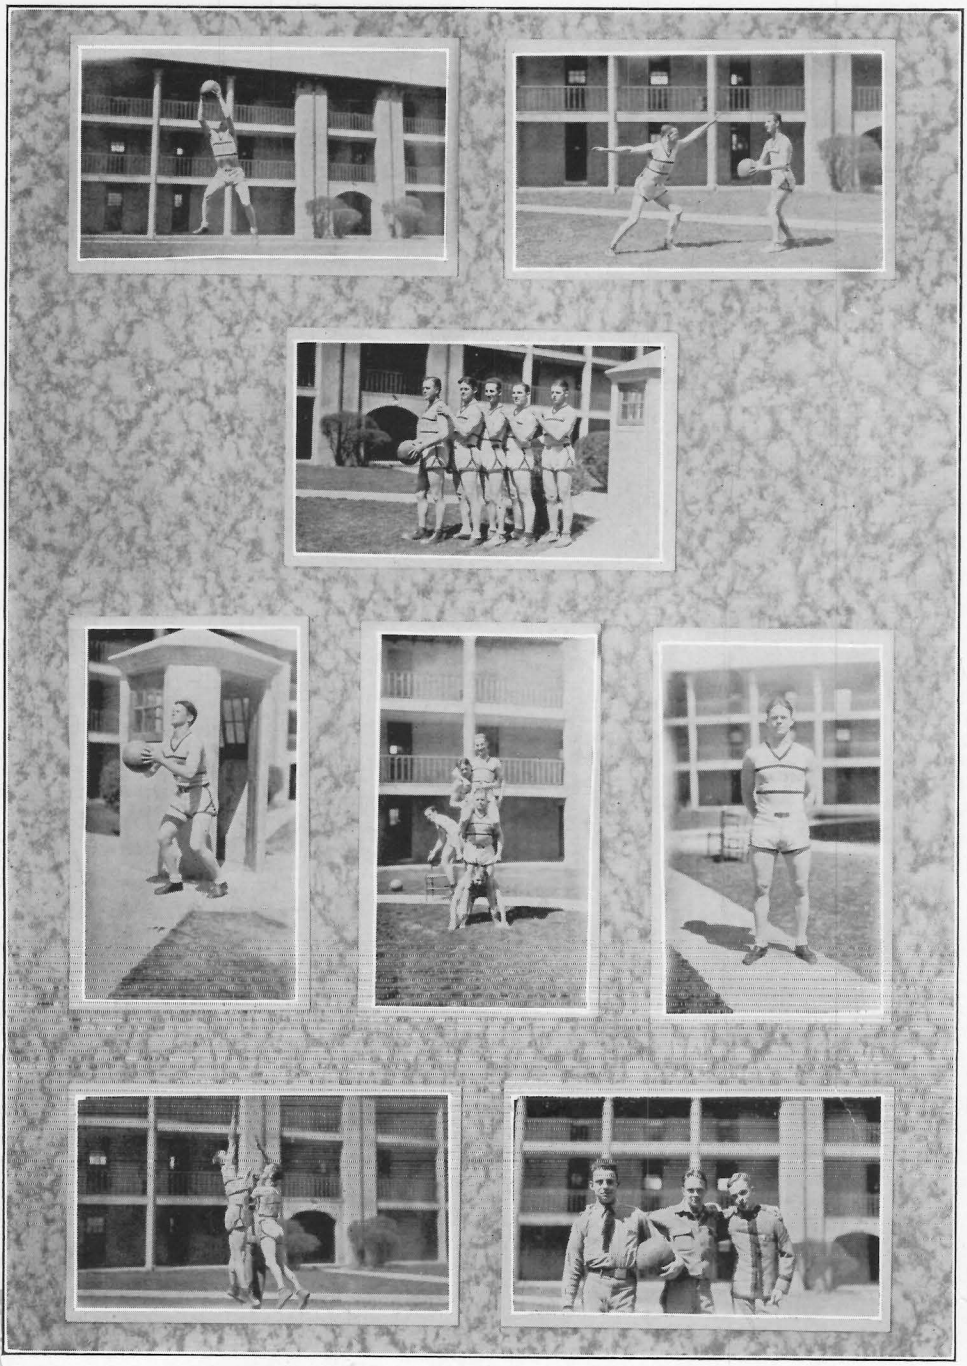

MANAGER

"John Wade," by his willing smile and persevering work, won for himself, around barracks, the title of "All-State Manager."

He was a manager who devoted his time to the team and a man upon whom they could rely for their welfare and comfort.

We are sorry that John Wade won't be wit hus next year, however, we feel sure that he will meet with success wherever he may go.

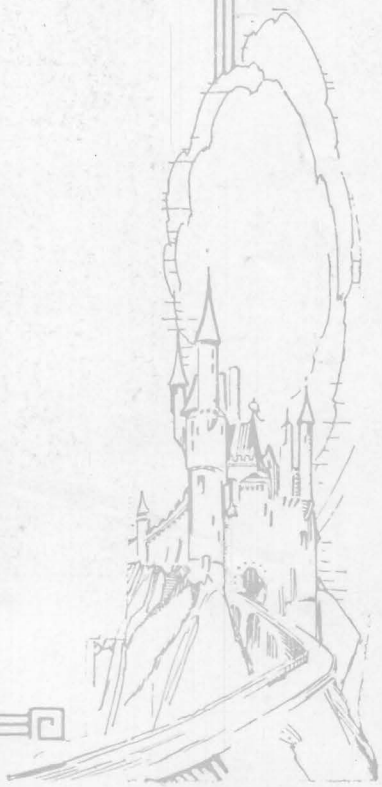

"Best O' luck to you, 'John Wade'."

Basketball

THE nineteen twenty-nine basketball season at Augusta was one that will stand out in the minds of those who followed the sport as one of the most thrilling seasons of all times. Starting in a very inauspicious manner by losing to W. and L. freshmen, cancelling with Shenandoah College for reasons unavoidable, losing to Draper College of North Carolina, a close game, the team hit its stride and won from V. P. I. rats by the decisive score of 45-19. Then followed a slump which put the backers of the Blue and White on uneasy street for quite some time, and that those who watched the team realized that it was improving under the able guardianship of Major Roller and Captain Hodges. This was proved when Woodberry Forest's hopes went sailing on the small end of a 32-26 score and some good old revenge was taken on the school that upset our hopes for an undefeated football season. From then until the end of the regular season the team played good ball and every game was a thriller. V. M. I. rats who were the only ones to defeat the University of Virginia Freshmen, fell before the game Blue and White warriors in the most thrilling game played in the new gymnasium. Score, 37-32. The rats lead for the better part of three quarters and the corps and the team gave everything in a mighty last effort that carried them to an unexpected victory.

Then the W. and L. tournament to which came the best of the preparatory school teams of the South Atlantic. Our season had been such as to make us loom small in the early calculations of the "Dopsters" but, composed of men who never bother about "The Dope" and coached by men to whom the upsetting of "Dope" has become a source of past time, daily gladdened the hearts of the corps and its other followers by defeating and eliminating teams that were supposed to be much better than A. M. A. Chilhowie, a set up, was first to cross. Score, 37-21. Next the R. M. A. team a supposedly strong contender, was beaten by the score 40 to 27. Then S. M. A., our neighbors, took the count to the tune of 33 to 22. Emerson Institute of Washington, considered by many, the logical winner of the tournament, and who, earlier in the season had defeated A. M. A. 51 to 21, proved a real obstacle, and only by extraordinary effort were we able to win from them by the score of 39 to 38. This put us into the finals with Newport News High School as our opponent. They presented a clean cut team and after one of the hardest fought and most spectacular games of the series; emerged victorious with the long end of a 37 to 31 score.

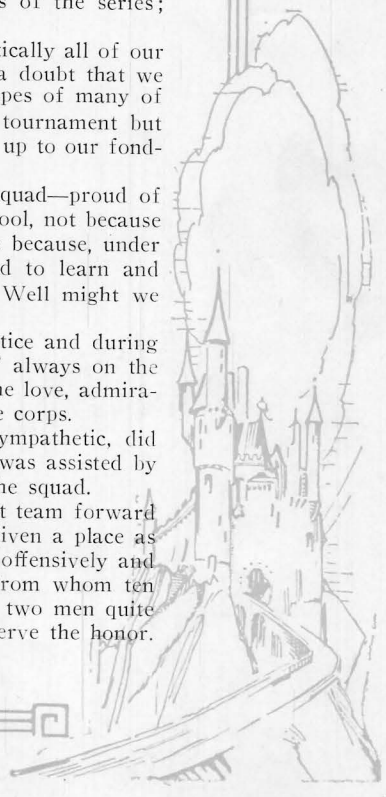

But who cared about that? In the regular season we had defeated practically all of our real rivals and in the tournament had demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt that we had a real team; one capable of standing the grind and of wrecking the hopes of many of the "upper dogs": To the general public it was "the dark horse" of the tournament but to us it was "Our Team" composed of our buddies who had right nobly lived up to our fondest hopes and carried the name of Augusta to its rightful place—at the top.

We are proud of this team—proud of every man on it—proud of the squad—proud of the coaches. It stands out as one of the best teams in the history of the school, not because of a marvelous record, not because of its great knowledge of the game—but because, under many difficulties and through many dark periods it continued to train and to learn and when show down came it had the goods and knew how to deliver them. Well might we point pridefully to it as our example of what Augusta teaches young men!

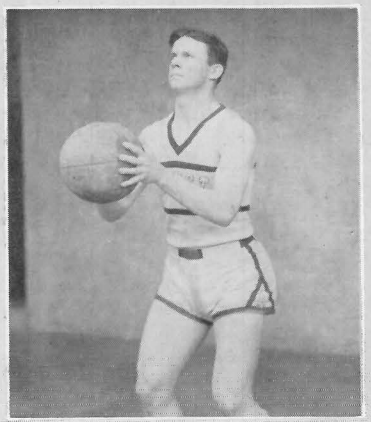

Major Roller was with the team practically all the time during the practice and during the games, guiding and encouraging it. Captain Hodges was "old faithful" always on the job. Both of these men know basketball and both know boys. They have the love, admiration, and respect, not only of the individual members of the team, but of the corps.

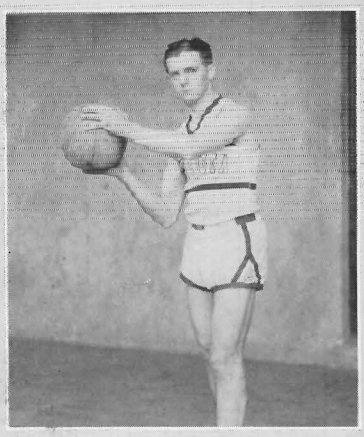

Blakemore, always cheerful, always working, never despondent or unsympathetic, did much to prove the saying that men reflect the qualities of their leader. He was assisted by Bach, Shaffer, Malone, Lynch, Harris, Welch, McIntyre, and the others of the squad.

Bach was picked by the officials and the judge of the tournament as a first team forward for the mythical All South Atlantic Preparatory school team. Shaffer was given a place as guard on the second team. The finished basketball player must qualify both offensively and defensively and the tournament presented no small list of finished players from whom ten were selected as a first and second team. We consider their selection of our two men quite an honor for these two men and for the school and we are certain they deserve the honor.

RUNNING GUARD

Zeke our ever dependable captain, was always exactly where he was needed, and showed a fighting spirit always. He has proved to us his fitness as a leader in every respect. We are very sorry to loose you next year Zeke, but here's wishing Good Luck to you.

BACH

ASSISTANT CAPTAIN

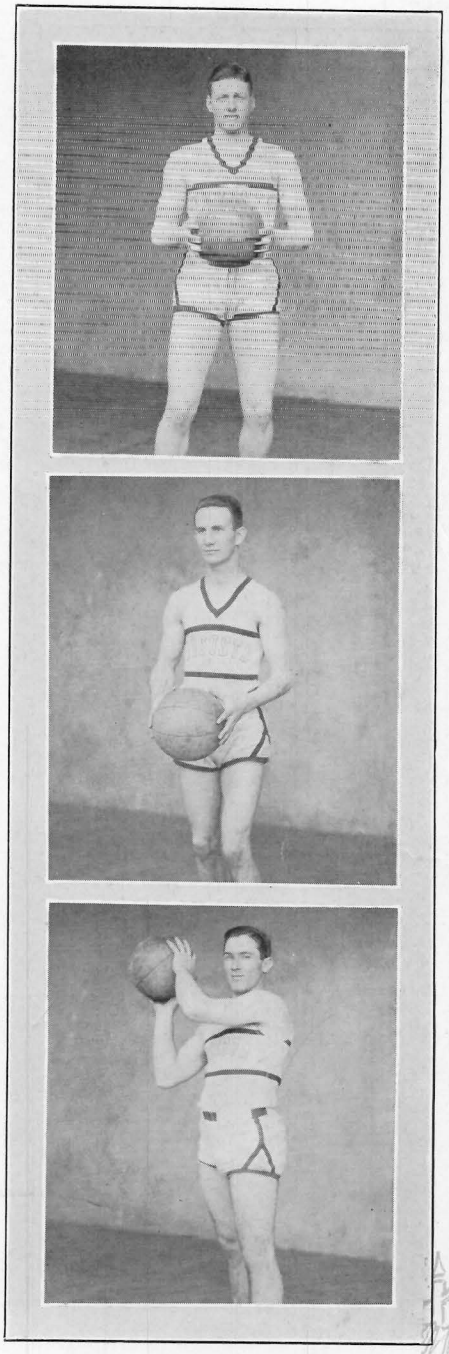

FORWARD

Stan was without a doubt a clean hard fighter and caused many an opponent constant worry. He was here, there, everywhere at once. His dribbling, no doubt was the best ever seen on the A. M. A. court. He won the distinct honor at the tournament for being all-state forward. It is a pleasure to know that Stan will be with us again next year.

WELSH

CENTER

Herb was short but always managed to get the ball on the tip-off. His ability as a shot, long or short was nearly always sure. We hope to have you back again next year, Herb.

SHAFFER

GUARD

George was without a doubt a valuable man to our team as he was always there to guard his goal. He was ever alert and ready always to break up or to receive passes. George, we sure hope you'll be back with us next year.

MALONE

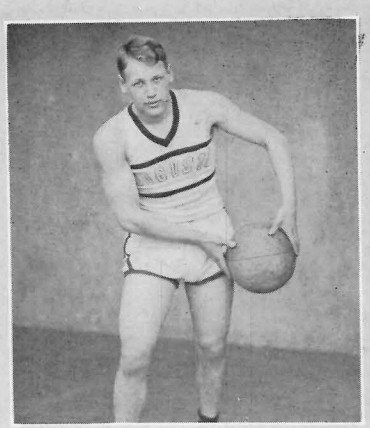

FORWARD

Irish was always found under the hoop to make a shot and seldom, very seldom, he misses. He was considered by all as one of the best long shots on the team. Irish, old boy, we're glad to have you back next year.

HARRIS

GUARD

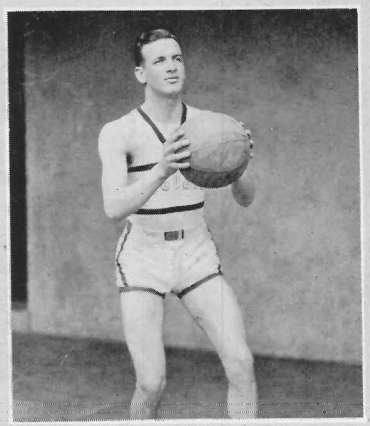

Come on Clem, that was all, then a streak down the floor and Clem had made a goal. Hard fighting never say die Clem. We are sorry to loose you next year Clemmer, but luck to you.

McINTYRE

GUARD

Mac was a steady, hard, going guard, ever in his position to break up a play. He will be very much missed next year, but wherever he goes we feel sure he will make someone a good guard. Luck to you Mac.

SALE

Sonny was a long time getting started but by hard work he won his laurels. He was a steady never let-up player. We are fortunate to have him back with us next year.

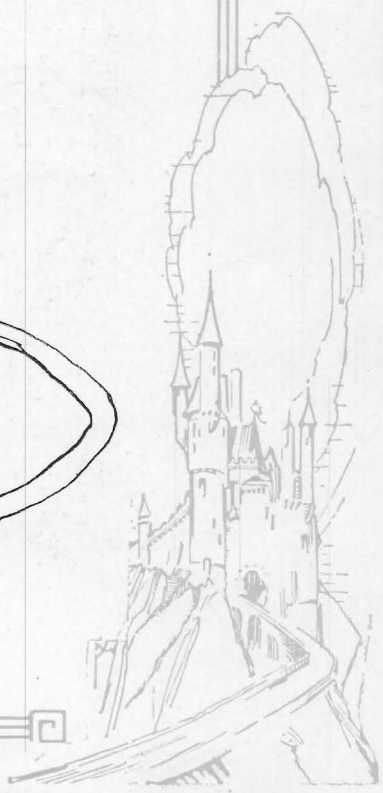

PALMATORY

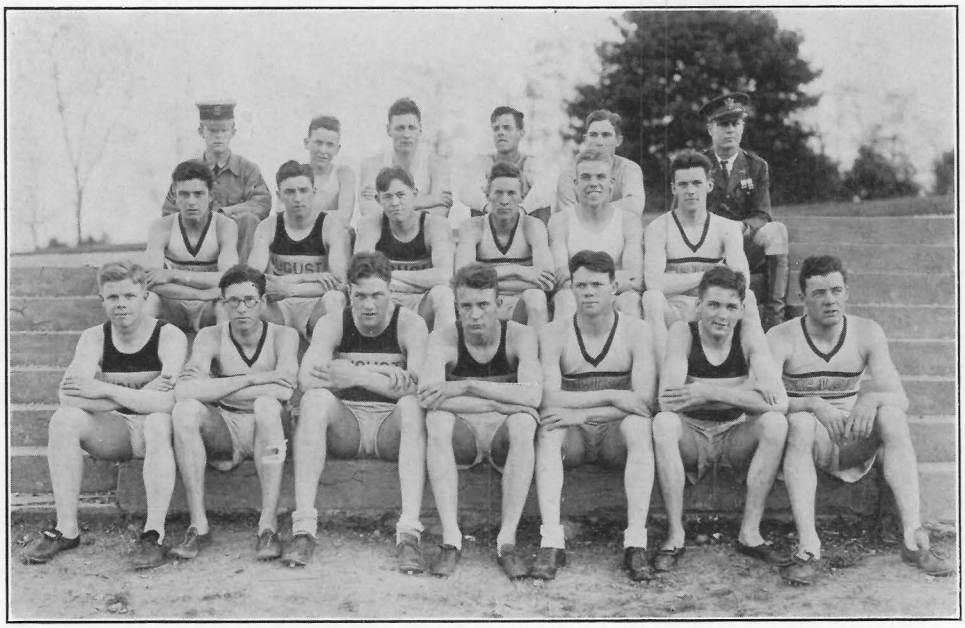

MANAGER

The basketball team was indeed fortunate in having Major Tom as their manager, for Tom was one of the best athletic managers Augusta has been fortunate enough to have. Through hard work he took all of the burden from the members of the team so that they could give all of their time to the game. We regret to state that Tom is going to leave us this year. Here's the best of luck, from the team and the corps, Tom.

"Bunny" came out and surprised us this year. We could generally count on him in the high hurdles, low hurdles, high jump and broad jump. To "Bunny" went the honor of captain of the year's team. He will be with us again next year.

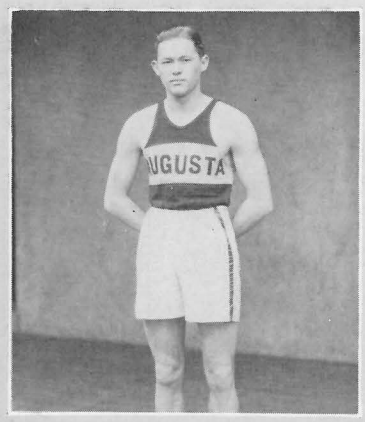

We are counting on you "Bunny."

BACH

To Stanley went the assistant captain of the team. We were extremely fortunate to have Stanley with us again this year. He proved to be a very valuable man to the team. He holds the State record of the javelin throw and we are happy to say that he will be with us again next year.

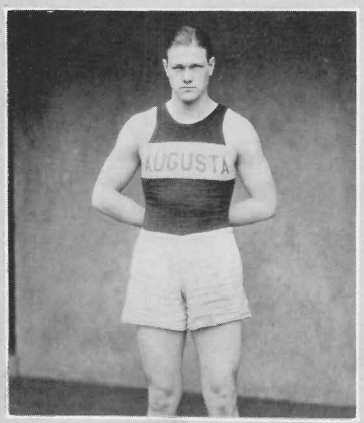

MARSTON

Fitz could be called on whenever points were needed. He entered as many as seven events in one meet. We are sorry to loose him but feel that he will make good wherever he goes.

HUMPHRIES

"Ed" was flying higher than ever this season. He is one of last year's letter men and we hope that he will be with us again next season.

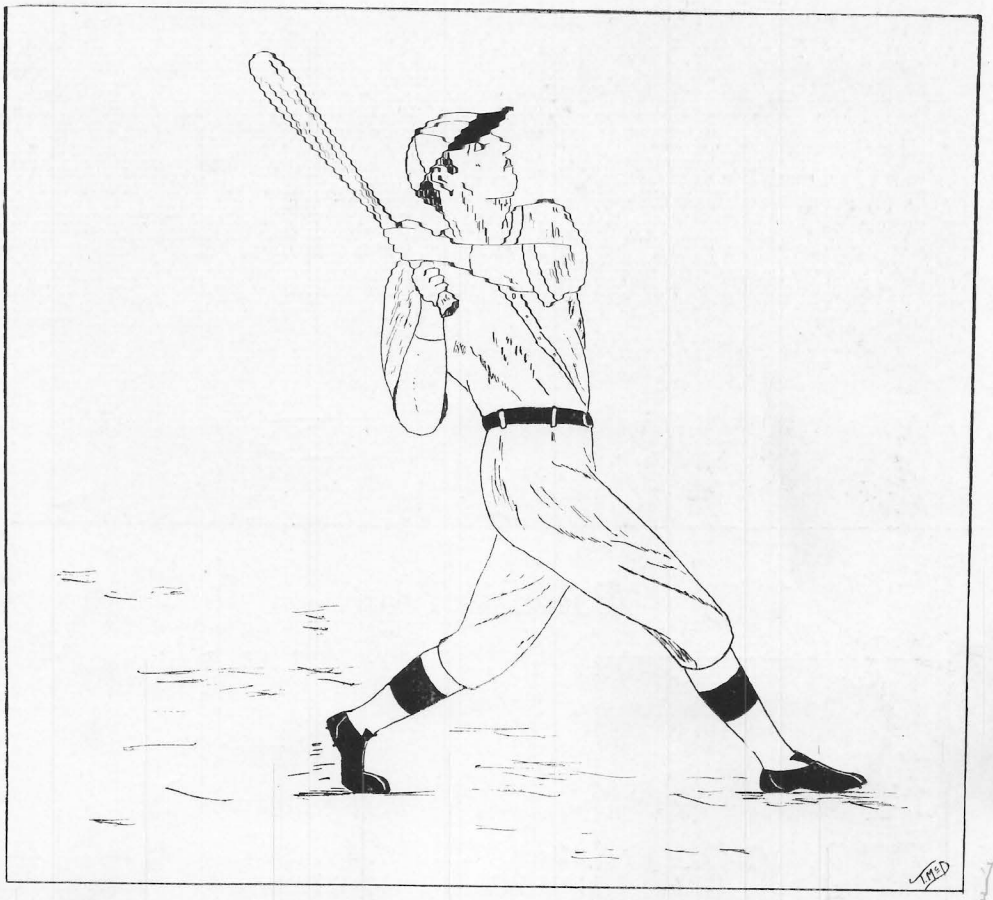

COPPS

"Mike," another one of last year's men, was with us again this year. We could count on "Mike" in any of the weights when in a pinch and he often helped us out when we were in a bad hole.

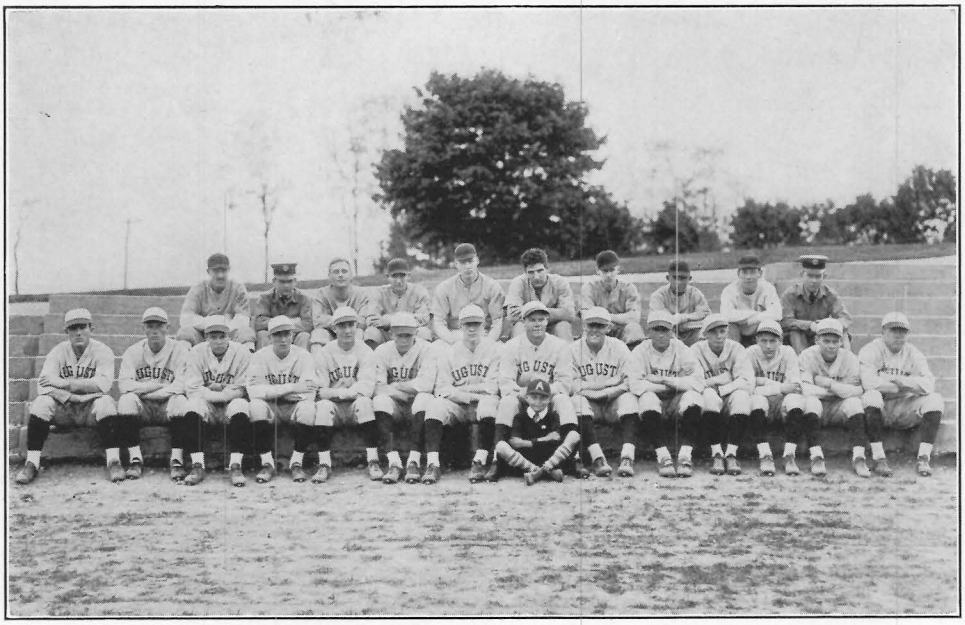

DUNLOP

"Lop" ran the mile and the half for A. M. A. this year. He always fought from the start to finish. We are fortunate to have him back with us next year.

Baseball

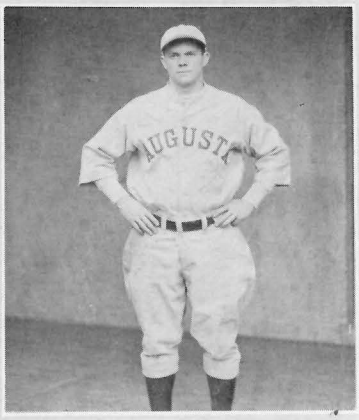

IN CONSIDERING the outlook for the remainder of the baseball season we must say that it is bright, for already we have won four out of six games. Of course, this can not be taken as an accurate forecast for there are many things that may happen which are common to athletic teams. Yet the fact that we have back with us again this year Bach, who was elected captain of the team; Griffin, an excellent out fielder; Whitehead, a letter man of last year and left fielder hard to beat either at the bat or in the field; Berry, W., who played third base; Wainwright, another hard to beat fielder; Blakemore, who was with us last year is back again to strengthen our pitching staff; and Harris who is holding a position at first base. Furthermore we have Vaniewsky and Shreckhise, who proved themselves to be good catchers, Bundy and Montgomery who have strong pitching arms have been a great help to the team. Kelsey and Eagles, alternate at second base and are both dependable players. Malone has proven to the satisfaction of all that he is well qualified for short stop. All of which leads us to believe that with such a combination our baseball team is going to be hard to beat.

From the opening season until the time the RECALL goes to press our team has an excellent record. In the opening game which was played with John Marshall High School, of Richmond, Va., our team played a tight game all the way through and came out on the long end of a 3 to 4 score. The next game was with the V. M. I. rats. Again our ball players fought hard and won another close game, the score being 4 to 5. Following this we took an easy victory from Shenandoah College, coming out with a 10 to 7 score. Then the first trip was made. At Lexington the V. M. I. rats were again defeated. This time the score was 2 to 5. This list of victories was followed by two successive defeats, but we believe and hope that the boys will get together and continue their list of victories.

A great deal of credit for building up this team is due to Captain J. C. Gallagher. This is Captain Gallagher's second year as coach of varsity baseball and from the showing his team made last year there is no room to doubt that he is all an able coach should be.

Cadet Lieutenant Manakee was chosen by Captain Gallagher at the beginning of the season as manager of the team.

CENTER FIELD

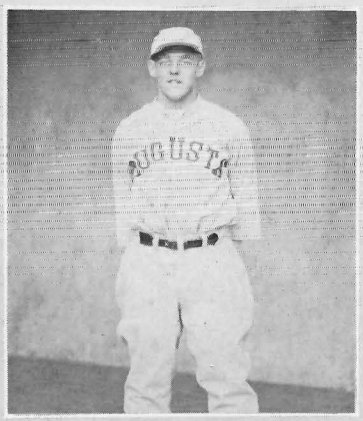

Stan, the captain of our baseball team, is the most dependable man on the team. His hitting is the dread of all our opponents. He has several home runs and a great many three and two base hits scored opposite his name. Stan's fielding is the envy of every man who aspires to have an almost errorless record. No opponent purposely bats a ball within his reach, for there can be only two things happen to it—it is stopped in mid air or taken from the ground and snapped to first or second for an out. We are thankful that Stan will be with us again next year to lead the team.

PITCHER

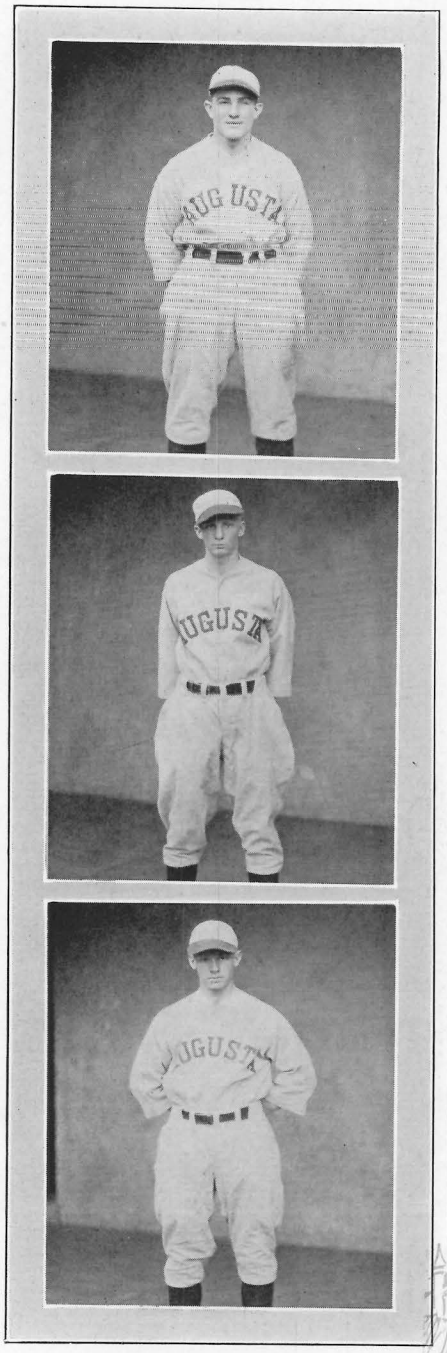

Zeke is our most dependable pitcher. Many of our opponents have found him hard to hit and it is seldom that he walks a man. When he is at his best the ball travels with speed and has all the curve necessary to fool the best batters. Zeke is an unusual pitcher in that he has an excellent batting average, and does not "blow up" as a result of bad breaks. Next year we will have to look for a man to take Zeke's place for much to our regret he will not be with us next year.

WAINWRIGHT

RIGHT FIELD

Bob has lived up to our expectations. Last year he was a letter man and this year he is doing even better. A ball seldom comes into his section of the field that is not scooped up or caught on the fly and speedily and accurately pegged to the right base. Bob is always dependable with the "stick" and has a good many hits to his credit. A. M. A. is going to lose a good fielder due to the fact that Bob will not be with us next year. We wish him luck and are sure his baseball record will be good wherever he goes.

HARRIS

FIRST BASE

Not only is Clem the fastest base runner but he is always a dependable man at the bat. When the ball is thrown anywhere near first base Clem is right there to get it. We are very fortunate in having him back with us next year.

LEFT FIELD

It is an expression among the corps, and a good one too, that Whitey carries a basket in which to catch every ball in his zone. In truth, we believe no man with a basket could do nearly as well as he does with a glove. He has never been known to miss a ball that comes anywhere near him. He has a strong arm and is nearly always able to snap the ball in time to catch the runner off base. When Whitey comes to bat the fielders drop back, and for a good reason. The numbers of home runs to his credit is high. Whitey is going to Carolina next year. We feel sure that he will make a place for himself on the team. At the same time we regret that he is leaving us.

GRIFFIN

Griff alternates with Wainwright in right field and has an excellent batting average to his credit. He is equally good as a fielder, and has seldom let a chance for a good play go by. He is noted for his ability to make the catchers, which to the spectators seem nearly impossible. We regret that Griff will not be with us next year, but we wish him success at Carolina and feel sure they are getting a good ball player.

Boxing Team

The prospects for boxing this year were "good." Even "better" than last. In fact, the "best" we have ever had. With such experienced veterans of the "Cauliflowered Industry" as Beery, M., Woods, J., Payne, C., and Copps, M., "on deck," and McDonough, a constant "threat," in the "hole," any coach might well wear that "satisfied smile."

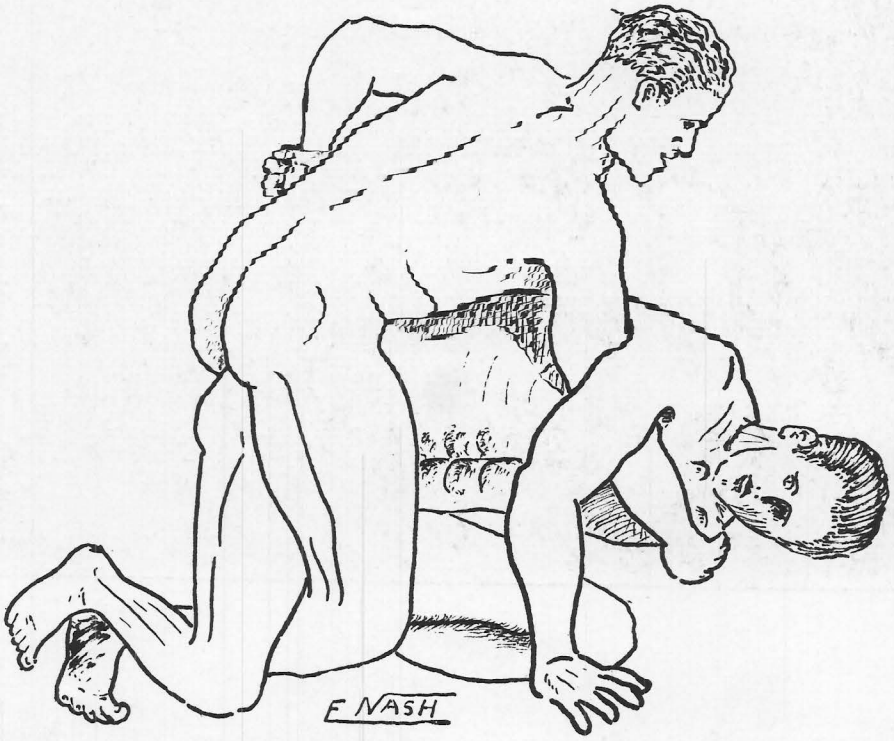

Then, too, there was a wealth of new material. With good men like Gray, Founds, Walker, Moseley, Gamewell, Bovee, Quisenberry, Montgomery, Deffenbaugh, Rosenstock, and others "rearing to go," the open "weights" were easily filled and the old "Pugs" had to fight all the way to hold their "corners."

Any team that beats the West Point cadets in anything has done a good day's work. The real achievement of the season was on February 22nd, when we invaded the United States Military Academy and in seven hard fought "bouts" with the "Plebes," four times were the right hands of Augustans raised at the "bell" in token of victory.

Our season closed in a blaze of glory at the South Atlantic Tournament at Charlottesville. We were satisfied to take second place, returning home with two Conference Champions and five other "Maulers," who had battled like demons and given clever demonstrations in the "Manly Art."

Captain Denton was forced on account of ill health to be absent a greater part of January and February. However, so thoroughly had he grounded his "protéges" in the elements of "Fistiana," that the naturally expected "slump" following his departure did not occur.

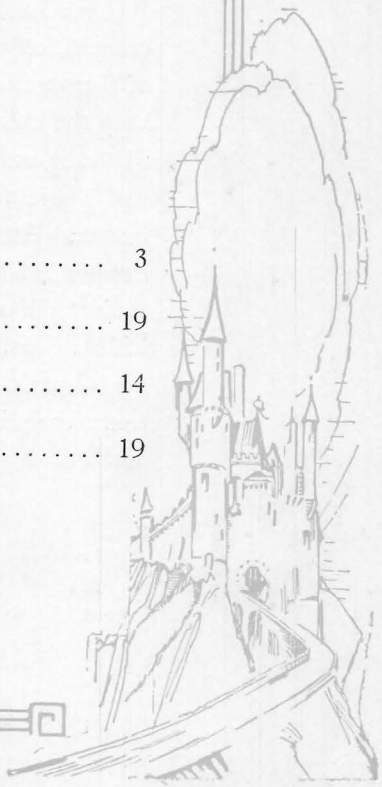

Ever present in the time of need, Captain Yates turned aside from his "wrestlers" and unselfishly divided his time with the unfortunate "Mittmen." He gave the best that he had, and that best was enough to send a "real team" through "the ropes" for each match.

Wrestling Team

We had, as usual, a never-say-die wrestling team this year. Unfortunately, competition was hard to get, so the meets were few and far between. As a result of this our excellent coach, Captain Denton, and Captain Yates found it hard to keep the men in training. However, of the four meets we took two and lost one of the others by a very close score.

There was an abundance of good material to chose from throughout the season. Hussey 115-lb., Pryor 125-lb. and captain of the team, Kelsey 135-lb., Palmer 145-lb., Dorsey 175-lb., and Copps unlimited, continually held their places against all comers. Ward, Slemp, Payne, and Reily alternated in the 158 and 168-lb. class.

Captain Denton chose Kadie as manager of both the wrestling and boxing teams early in the year.

Augusta's varsity swimmers closed a very successful season, undefeated by any southern prep school and winning once more the State Prep School Swimming Championship.

In the course of the season, Augusta defeated, R. M. A. twice, Fishburne twice, and Virginia Freshman twice.

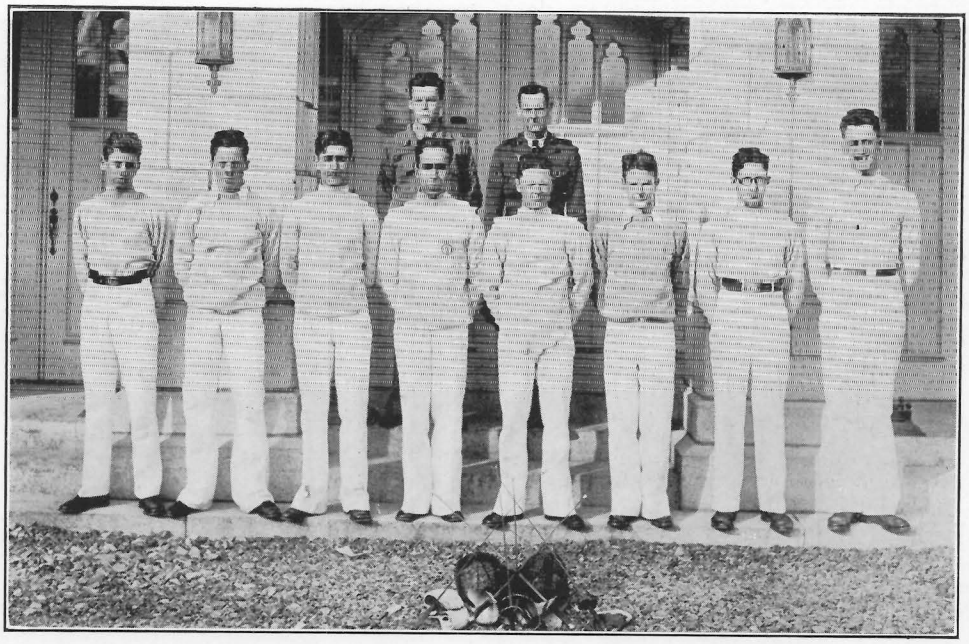

Brilliant work was shown throughout the year by various members of the team. Kirn, the high point man, lowered the Virginia pool record for the 100-yard free-style by 2/5 of a second. Kirn scored some fast times, consistently swimming the 100-yard, in 58 seconds flat.

The team was always sure of several points from the diving. Timmons and Harley by fine work on the board, brought in a total of 37 points during the season.

Yon, the captain of the team, swam breast stroke. He took first place in all prep school meets except one, and he finished a close second in that. Yon clocked some fast times making the 50-yard breast stroke in 35 flat. In the meet with Mercersburg, against the best prep school swimmers of the country, Yon took first in his event.

One of the outstanding features of the varsity tankmen was the relay team. The relay which went undefeated throughout the entire season was composed of Dodson, Marston, Adam, and Kirn.

Goodwin, Harryman, Taggart, and Barnes brought in their quota of points. Goodwin the 220-yard man, could always be depended upon to sprint in the last lap, and finish winner.

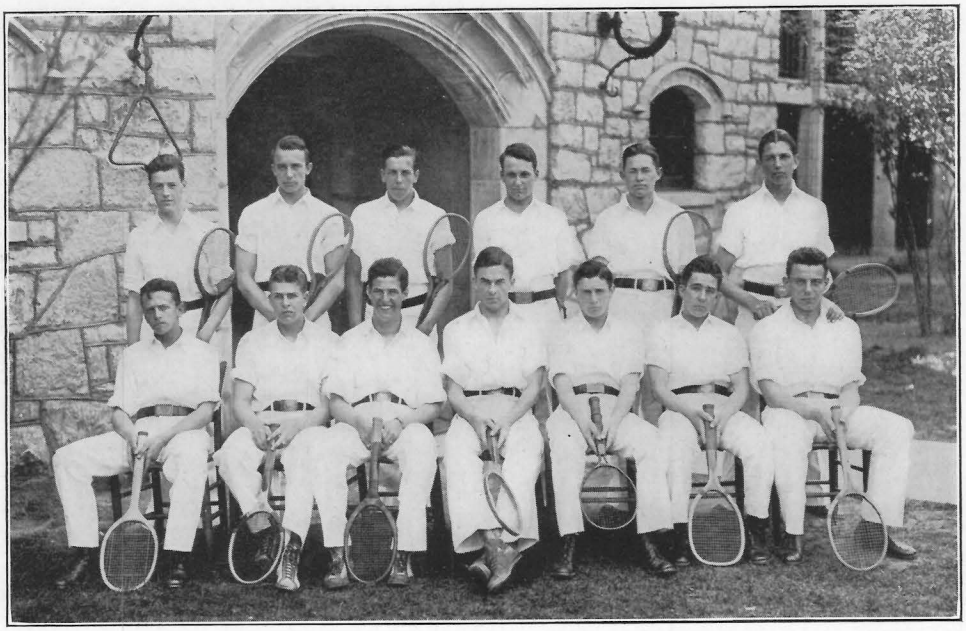

Fencing Team

Augusta is one of the few prep schools in the country to boast of a fencing team. In the fall of '26 Major Yates formed the first team and since that time under Major's able instruction it has been one of Augusta's leading minor sports.

Immediately after the return from the Christmas holiday the annual call for candidates went forth. This call was answered by a larger squad than usual. Of this large squad the eight best were picked for the varsity team worthy of great accomplishment. Miller, G. F. was elected captain and under his leadership great things were accomplished.

The following men were awarded the coveted 6-inch A:

Miller, G.
Yon, C. J.
Buck
Lowenthol, F.
Lowenthal, R.

Golf Team

In the past years A. M. A. has undertaken every kind of sport and in every case has made a huge success, so after little discussion golf was taken up. It was only a matter of a week or so before a very unusual interest was taken in this sport, but like other things the cadets showed the willingness to give it a trial.

Golf was first taken up in the spring of '28, and this was due largely to having no place to play. This solution, however, was soon taken into hand by Major Roller, who rented Jordon's field for this purpose. It was a rather difficult problem to make any holes there but six were finally arranged. At first only four cadets played, but as the time passed, faculty and cadets were there enjoying this sport to it's fullest extent.

Due to the field being turned into a pasture the corps had to do without this game for a while. The field back of the barracks was suggested by Major Roller to be fixed into a course. This task was undertaken by some of Major's hired help, and lots of cadets were overwilling to share in the work, consequently a fair course of seven holes was arranged.

Arrangements have been made for cadets to join the new Stonewall Jackson Golf Club next year. This will permit more practice for the cadets and matches will probably be held on this course.

Material for next year's team looks very good, having back with us many new cadets who take great delight and interest in this ancient Scotch game.

Tigers

Each year the boys in barracks who do not go out for the varsity football team make up a team of their own. They do not go in for active competition or training, their idea being merely to play for the sport of the game. The team this year was called "The Tigers" and was coached by Major Yates and Captain Reveley.

Ad Astera Per Aspera

The Ad Astra Per Aspera Fraternity was founded at the Augusta Military Academy on June 3, 1925.

At the end of each year, the ten teachers that have been at the Augusta Military Academy the longest, vote for the ten cadets in the school that they think are the most worthy, and the most outstanding. The ten cadets that get the highest number of votes are elected as members of this Fraternity.

It is the highest honor that is conferred upon any boy wearing the A. M. A. cadet gray, and all cadets are eligible to be voted for except new cadets. Their motto is, "We do not court popularity, but we do place service above self and Loyalty next to Godliness."

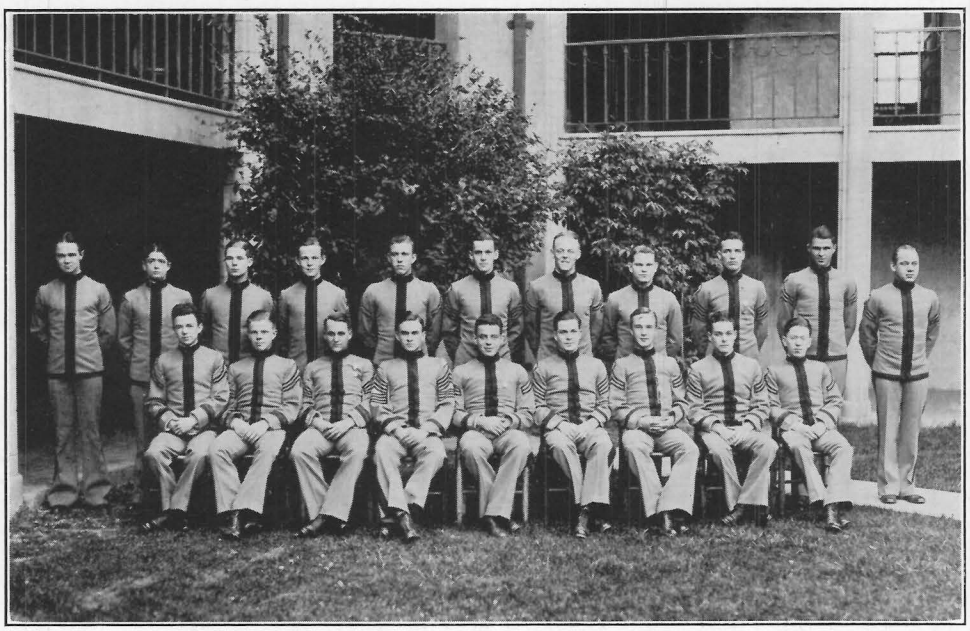

The Ad Astra pin is a small solid gold A. M. A. button on which the name of the cadet is engraved on the under side. These announcement are made the last thing before the Valedictory address each Commencement morning.

The Ad Astra men in school this year are as follows:

Cadet Major Thomas J. Palmatory, Richmond, Virginia.
Cadet Captain Charles H. Payne, Beckley, West Virginia.
Cadet Captain Gaylord B. Harryman, Baltimore, Maryland.
Cadet First Lieutenant Merritt M. Railey, Charlottesville, Virginia.

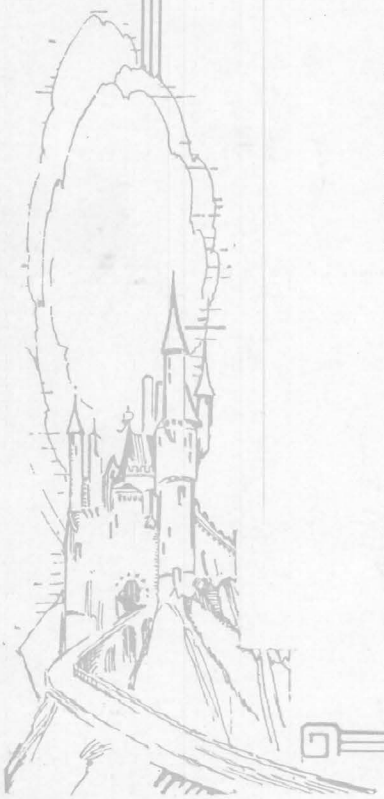

The above named cadets were elected in June, 1928.

The A. M. A. Cadet Staff

The A. M. A. Cadet was founded this year. Although still young in its first editions, but old in principle, The Cadet received compliments from everywhere. The original staff gave it its start, and after Christmas was edited in competition by the different platoons. *The A. M. A. Diary

September 26—School opens. Nothing much done. Lot of boys back that were not expected.

September 29—First football game. Won it from V. M. I. rats 7-0.

October 13—Won from Fork Union after holding them for four downs on six-inch line (score 6-0). Had dance at night.

October 20—Lost for the first time this year (only time, too) to Woodberry. Some of the boys went to the game; it was at Orange.

October 21—First talk of a student court.

October 31—Permanent "makeovers." In spite of the appointments, there were a lot of disappointments.

November 3—Trip to Charlottesville. Whole corps went. We beat S. V. A., and U. of Va. beat W and L.

November 10—In the best game of the year we beat Greenbrier 20-19. A very fast game. Bach made two of the three touchdowns.

November 12—Corps went to Harrisonburg for the Armistice Day parade. (Had it today because the 11th was Sunday.)

November 17—Won from Massanutten (7-0) in a very good game. It seems they always have a heavy team.

November 25—Y. M. C. A. had a social. Chorus from Manch College came down and sang for us.

November 29—Last football game of the season. We buried our jinx and Fishburne along with it. The score was 32-7.

November 30—Thanksgiving banquet tonight. Formal dance also.

December 10—Exams soon for the first term.

December 17—Exams are here.

December 20—Christmas holidays at last!

January 8—Back at school. Oh, those Christmas holidays.

January 16—First wrestling and boxing meets today. Both teams look good.

January 19—Won swimming meet from the U. of Va. Freshmen today, 32-24.

January 30—Kalvin beat Blake in a ten-round fight this afternoon.

February 1—Won from Fishburne in a boxing meet by the score 5-2.

February 7—Annual snowball battle between rats and old men.

February 9—Major let us have an informal dance tonight. The school orchestra played.

February 13—Beat W. and L. Freshmen in both boxing and wrestling at Lexington.

February 17—First dress parade after Christmas.

February 22—The boxing team beat West Point 4-3 up there. The team is evidently a good one.

March 8—In the basketball tournament at W. and L. our team trimmed S. M. A. We go to the finals now.

March 9—Unfortunately, we lost to Newport News High School at the tournament. Second place out of a field of twenty-nine teams is mighty good, though.

March 18—Our second semester exams are here.

March 21—Exams are over at last.

March 22—Tonight the formal opening of the new gym took place and we had a mighty fine dance from 9:30 until about 1:30.

March 29—Good Friday—the most complete holiday of the year.

March 30—First baseball game of the season. We beat John Marshall.

April 1—Beat Fork Union in the first track meet of the season.

April 6—Won in a track meet with Greenbrier 93-24. Some track team we've got.

April 18—The band left today for the apple-blossom festival, and the Y. M. C. A. cabinet for a conference near Richmond.

April 30—We are having a heavy drive on Military to preprare for the Government Inspection.

May 7—Government Inspection. Dance tonight.

May 8—Founder's Day. Holiday and afternoon dance; it was informal.

May 9—Back to school regularly now.

May 19—Exams begin next week. Final crash of the scholastic year.

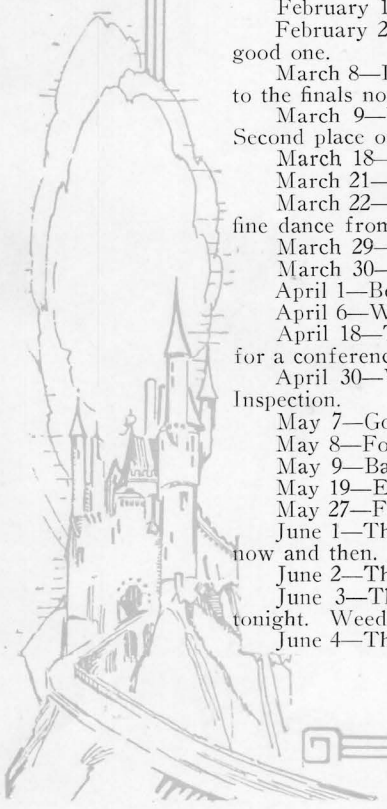

May 27—Final exams are here.

June 1—The Final ceremonies have begun—Parade each day, with a little exhibition drill now and then.

June 2—The Baccalaureate Sermon was preached today. Final Y. M. C. A. meeting.

June 3—The biggest and last social function of the year. The Final Ball came off tonight. Weede-Meyer played.

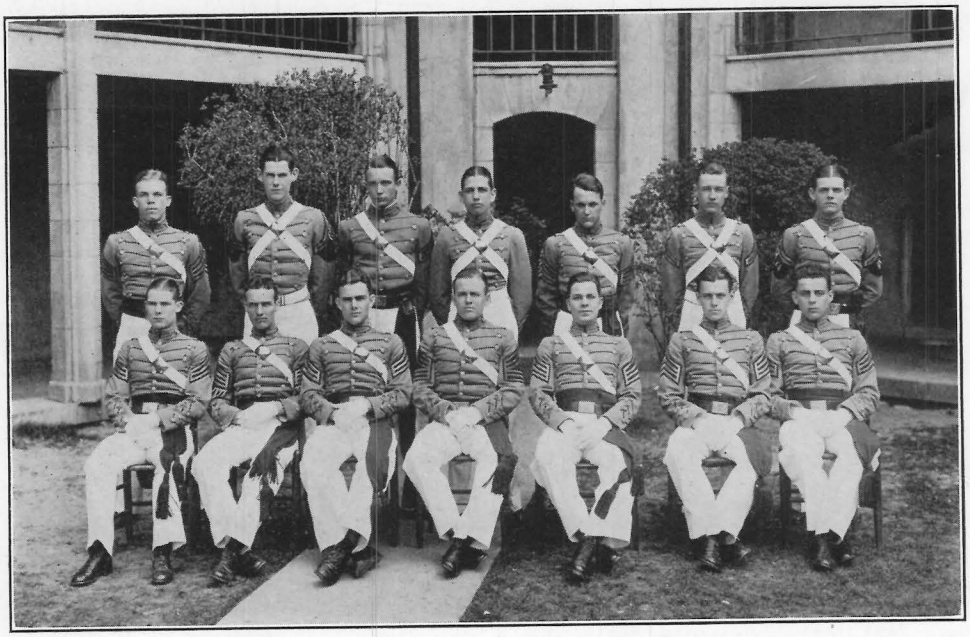

June 4—The end has come. I am through.

Dances

This year's Cotillion Club should be congratulated on its dances. Although they have been few, due to the building of the new gym, they have been exceptionally good. This year Cotillion Club is composed of J. L. Pryor, president; J. T. Palmatory, vice-president; M. M. Pryor, secretary; V. A. Blakemore, treasurer; and Cadet W. E. Blake, J. P. Lea, J. N. McCutchan, F. Dorsey, G. B. Harryman, B. C. Goodwin, C. H. Payne, B. C. Prince, W. Lane, R. E. Miller as the dance committee. The officers and committee should be thanked for the hard work they have put forth to make the dances of '28 and '29 a great success.

The dances were opened by an informal dance two weeks after the opening of school. Music was furnished by the school orchestra, that by hard work had gotten into wonderful shape. This dance was considered very good and the outlook for the coming season was very bright.

The usual plan was followed this year by the Thanksgiving dances, held after the banquet on November 26th. This was the first formal dance of the year and it was talked about as being one of the best formal dances held in the past years. The leader were Cadet Lieut. M. Railey with Miss Marjorie Humbert, assisted by Cadet Lieut. J. L. Pryor with Miss Tillie Mauplin. Music was furnished by Virginia Cavaliers. Memorial Hall was beautifully decorated in orange and black. After the Thanksgiving dances, two informals were given to help cheer the cadets up for the long, long wait until the Christmas vacation.

Following the Christmas vacation several informals were given until finally the much looked forward to the opening of the Gym was upon us. This dance was exceptionally good and was enjoyed by all attending.

Twe more informals followed in rapid succession and these led up to the best dances of the year, the exotic spring dances. This was led by Cadet Lieut. Pryor with Miss Kitty Bennett, assisted by Cadet Major Palmatory with Miss Charlotte Epps. Music was furnished by the Virginia Cavaliers who in the opinion of a great many cadets were very good.

One informal dance was held between Spring Dances and finals due to the short time before examinations.

The final Cotillion Club dance is always the best informal dance of the year and this year was no exception to the rule. This dance was led by Cadet Blakemore with Miss Monte McCoy. Music was furnished by the Cadet Ramblers.

Then came the final ball, how wonderful it sounded to all of us. This was led by Cadet Major J. T. Palmatory with Miss Charlotte Epps assisted by Cadet J. L. Pryor with Miss Kitty Bennett. The gym. was decorated with palms. Music was furnished by the Wede Meyer Orchestra.

March 22nd marked the opening of Augusta's new gymnasium. This gym, the largest prep school gymnasium in the South, was formally opened by a reception and dance. The visitors and guests were shown through the gym while cadets illustrated the various activities to take place in the gym. Immediately following was the dance, led by Cadet Pryor with Miss Kitty Bennett. At midnight a delightful lunch was served. As the last note of "Home, Sweet Home" died away the new Roller Memorial Gym made its début into life at Augusta.

Final Ball

THE Cadets of this year had the extreme honor of being first to have the final ball in our most exodic addition to the school, the New Gym.

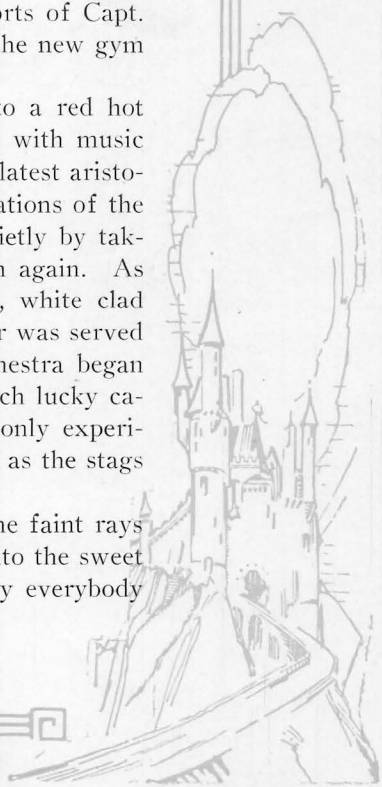

The success of the ball, however, was due to the hard work of our President, assisted by the committee. It by all means lived up to our highest expectations. The gym was beautifully decorated with huge green palms. In one of the corners was a very small garden in the center of which punch was served. Leading into this small artistic garden were small miniture paths. The soft pink lights lent a very pleasing aspect to the scene.

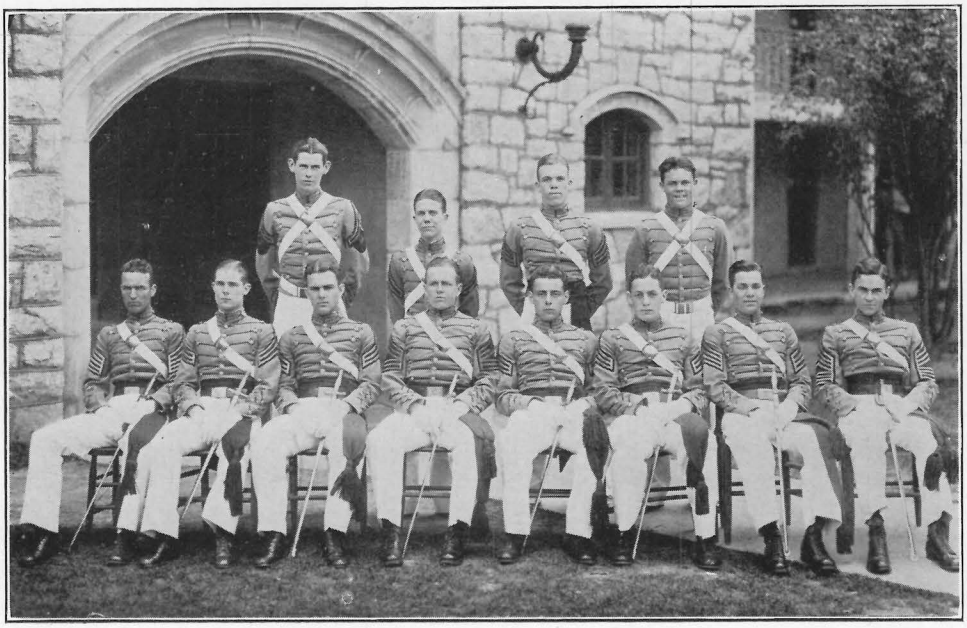

One of the main features of the ball was the excellent music of Weede Meyer's Orchestra. We felt indeed lucky in being able to secure one of the most sought bands in the country.

The orchestra was rendering a soft fox trot as the figure slowly entered the luxuriously decorated gym at a rythmic and beautifully co-ordinating tread. The spotless white of the girls evening dresses blended with the grey and the gold of the cadets uniform and stood out in array of colors invaded the gym. The girls wore exquisite corsages of American Beauty Roses, while the cadets were bedecked with blue and white rosetts. After the last formation was completed lovely presents were presented to all the girls taking part. The figure was led by Cadet Major J. T. Palmatory with Miss Charlotte Epps assisted by Cadet Lieut. Pryor with Miss Kitty Bennett. It was one of the prettiest and best executed figures that A. M. A. has ever seen, due to the unceasing efforts of Capt. W. S. Robinson and in no small measure to the plentiful space that the new gym afforded.

As the thunderous applause died away the orchestra broke into a red hot stomp and gradually couples filled the floor gently swaying in time with music selection after selection was played and all were fine examples of the latest aristocratic jazz. The gym rang with the merry laughter and the conversations of the cadets and their favorite ones. The hours and minutes speeded quietly by taking with them happy moments and memories that may never return again. As the drummer hit the symbol with a mighty crash for intermission, white clad waiters bearing huge trays came in on the dance floor. A plate supper was served to each person. As the waiters collected the empty plates the orchestra began anew its triode of music. The leaders whistle blew for a special, each lucky cadet enjoyed a few minutes of rapturious exaltation which one can only experience when dancing with a beautiful girl. The whistle sounded again as the stags cut in, more than one cadet unwillingly gave up his partner.

The dark shades of night began to be slowly dispursed and as the faint rays of light shone through the windows of the gym the orchestra broke into the sweet old strains of "Home Sweet Home." When the last note died away everybody agreed that the ball had been a huge and unrivaled success.

By Way of Prophecy and Recollection

A MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM

I FELL asleep and as I slept I had a dream. Dreams cannot be trusted always, but this one promised to be very interesting. I was carried forward through a span of twenty years and found myself skipping hither and thither over the globe in what seemed but a moment of time (which is against all laws of nature). Familiar faces came forward; some causing a pleasant smile to steal over my face and others causing me to toss as if in a blooming nightmare.

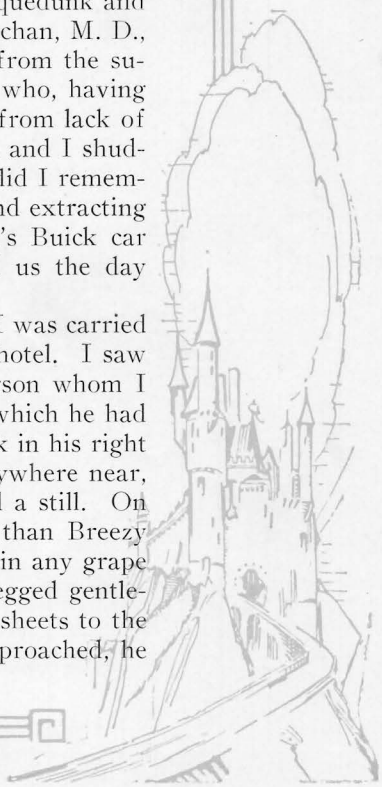

First, I found myself at the National Airdrome of Richmond. There seemed to be no activity until onto the field there raced a little red motorcycle, closely followed by a Spitson Sportster. The rider of the motorcycle leaped off his machine and slouched toward an old broken-down crate at the corner of the field, whose wheels he blocked and propeller he spun. From the roadster there came a middle-aged man dyked to the last word in aviator's garb, followed closely by a crowd of flappers of the season of 1950, who pressed around and asked for "That promised ride." After stuttering for some time, the handsome airman said regretfully that it would have to be next time. The greasy mechanic (bellowing in tones the like of which I haven't heard since "A" Company last had company drill), called, "All right, Palmatory, the bus is ready." Wherewith the aforementioned air demon replied, "Coming, Gaylord."

As he started to kiss the girls good-bye the scene shifted to a dive on the Mexican border. The proprietor of this den was none other than Blubber Smith, who had in his employ behind the faro tables the sleek and fastidious Wade Pollard Crawford. Suddenly the door flew open and in stomped a very peculiar creature, who had fencing foils hung on all parts of his anatomy. This person, in his desire to seem important, very clumsily tripped over the mop of Ezekial Blakemore (who was cleaning the sand pit near the door), and sprawled across the gambling table. This rudely interrupted the game of chance in which the house gambler was fast relieving the venerable card sharks—Swartout, Prince, and Couch—of all the hard-earned dust from their pokes. To quiet the uproar it was necessary to call forth the best barroom bouncer west of the Mississippi; can you guess it? Yes, you are right—Charles H. Payne. This hardboiled brute, well known in the cauliflower industry, quited the unruly Josephus Kalvin by a quick right and a short left (both to the jaw). The rude furnishings of the barroom faded, and in their place there came to view the elegant, luxurious ones of the well known Café Le Chris. The room was large, brightly lighted, and at the many tables, sat beautiful women and well dressed men. Each person in the room had the air of one who is waiting for something very unusual. Suddenly the lights were dimmed. A spotlight was directed to the dance floor in the center of the room. Into the light there glided two figures. From the darkness came the soft music of an old time tango. The figures melted together and seemed as one. As they swung back and forth, every line of their bodies seemed to be emphasized. The undiverted attention of all the patrons of the cabaret was directed toward this graceful man and beautiful woman. With an adroit turn the dance was completed. The lights came on, and amid the great applause Mlle. Fifi and the dancing marvel, Senor Antonio (of whom I had heard much) faced the audience and bowed gracefully. I was astounded, for this dancing man was Louis Pryor. I called for my check and the person who brought it seemed to me a man who had forgotten to remove the hanger when he put on his coat. I was afraid that this creature would recognize me, for it was Dick Miller, alias the "Prig." I hurried from the cabaret and had the taxi caller, William McIntyre, get me a cab. The driver, another Augusta man, was "B" Hill, who had had his early training driving a hearse in Charlottesville. I never reached my hotel, for I found myself in the Valley of Virginia, in the village of Berryville. It was night; the night was cold. I walked into the general store (which sold everything from shoelaces to coffins), and there by the fire (which was hotter than the depot stove at train time), sat a very rural specimen—no, not Dayton Hodges—but Louis Algernon Neill. He was telling several more lazy, good-for-nothing, low down, tin cupping countrymen of the success of his old schoolmate, Paul Rosenberger, who, from the wonderful yarns which Louis spread, was evidently about to dethrone Pierpont Morgan as the greatest business man of the day, for Paul, it seems, had made a great fortune selling B. V. D.'s to the Laplanders for ear-muffs.

Next I saw a short, broad man sitting with his firm foundation resting on the buttress of what appeared to be a huge dam. With great clarity the dream showed the broad expanse of mile after mile of water behind this great structure of man. I perceived that the river was the Amazon, and far below I could see the great skyscrapers of the city of Rio de Janeiro. The whole picture focused on the figure on top of the dam. This was J. Beaver Bell, and I could tell by his expression that he was working in the afternoon just so he could trifle at night. I began to pitch and toss in my sleep, for I was traveling the road between Squedunk and Clifton Forge (in the mountains of Virginia). J. Fretwellian McCutchan, M. D., with a little black bag by his side, was driving madly into the city from the suburbs on an urgent call to the bedside of C. Lawnmower Humbert who, having always been delicate and frail in his youth, was now having trouble from lack of nourishment. Instinct told me that an operation would be necessary, and I shuddered to think of the hands which would make the incision, for well did I remember how much trouble those same clumsy hands had had in locating and extracting the valves from the tires of one Sergeant Broadpants Fountainpen's Buick car (one night behind the mess hall when ice-cream had been denied us the day before).

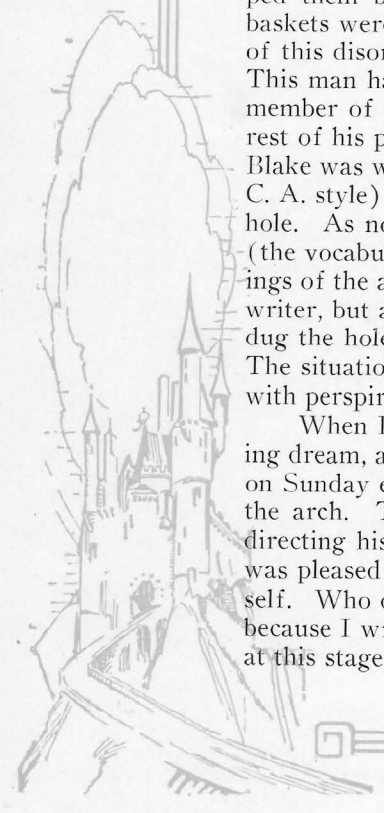

After having spent much of my time wandering in waste places, I was carried to the inner life of a large community which centered about a beach hotel. I saw many people in varied stages of inebriation, but there was one person whom I could not understand at all. This man lay beside a small pup tent (which he had pitched on the sand right beside a fashionable casino) grasping a cork in his right hand. There was no sign of a gallon jar, nor even a pint bottle anywhere near, and yet this man was gasping and gagging like one who had drained a still. On closer scrutiny I perceived that the piffilcated one was none other than Breezy Bowers, and that the cork he held was merely one of those common in any grape juice bottle. On strolling down the boardwalk I saw a portly, bowlegged gentleman coming toward me, and it was evident that he had at least two sheets to the wind, and his mainsail about to go by the board. As this person approached, he gladdened my heart, for George Smith (cousin of Country Willingham), was an old friend, even though he had decamped from the bank of which he had been cashier, with all the money which had been left in a trust fund to the widow and orphans of the Unknown Soldier. It was Friend George (who as I said before is a cousin of Eugene Willingham), who directed me to a place in rear of a large "blind pig," where we found Joseph P. Lea, late of the Massies Mill Greys and Dental surgery, endeavoring to take a cold shower in the Atlantic Ocean and cussing because Landis had the water so hot. I convinced Joseph that he should not be standing in less clothes than Adam wore (for Adam had a fig leaf), in front of such a large gathering of people, having convinced, him it was very hard to get him to move forward, for as you will remember, of the four men who gathered around Whistlebreeches' car one night (for no good purpose), Lea was the only man whose feet stuttered when we were discovered. After some palavering, I finally got Joseph P. under way toward a beauty parlor which I had noticed nearby. I thought that a beauty parlor would be the ideal place for the "Knight of the Bath," for in there no men would be around (only ladies), so there we went. I was disillusioned, however, for the only two patrons of the shop were men. One was having his very thick eyebrows curled and curved (he was Meritt Railey), and the other was having his already perfect complexion treated. Charlie Yon, how could you? Leaving Lea in the midst of the shower, I switched to the main office of an important New York paper. John Wade Bell (the man of dimples), sat in deep concentration over a piece of script that he was working on —I could tell by his air that this editorial would be just as interesting and as much of a hit with the public as the many which had already come from his pen.

I became restless in my bed and a horrible nightmare was upon me. I was in a close, unattractive room in which chaos seemed to reign. Nothing was in order, everything appeared to be wrong. The door to the room hung by one hinge, cobwebs were many and large, an overcoat and hat lay where their owner had dropped them behind a desk which was literally buried in paper, numerous trash baskets were loaded to the gills with papers (news and otherwise). In the midst of this disorder sat the most disorderly thing in the whole room. It was a man. This man had not seen the barber for some time, and his beard was worthy of a member of the House of David, his tie was awry and his shirt unbuttoned (the rest of his person was buried in paper). With hair standing on end, Wild Willie Blake was waving his arms in the air and asking how in the blankety blank (Y. M. C. A. style) he was going to get enough money to bring his last venture out of the hole. As no one answered, he began to discuss the whole situation with himself (the vocabulary for this discussion had been acquired after attending many meetings of the aforenamed Y. M. C. A.). From all I gathered Blake was a very good writer, but a very, very poor provider—in fact, he was so far in the hole and had dug the hole so deep that it was already a blister on the other side of the earth. The situation I was in was so uncomfortable that I awoke and found myself wet with perspiration.

When I was able to sleep again, nature was kind enough to give me a soothing dream, and this time I was carried back through the years to A. M. A. It was on Sunday evening at about eight o'clock, and a young man could be seen leaving the arch. This cadet was dressed in his best, and he turned around the track, directing his steps toward Colonel Roller's home. It was very plain this person was pleased with evening's prospects, and he seemed already to be enjoying himself. Who do you imagine it was? Whom was he going to see? I can't tell you, because I wrote this yarn, and it would be quite unknown to let go the flood gates at this stage of the game.

She: "Nay, Nay, Sir."
He: "Please—"
She: "Nay, Nay!!"
He (disgusted): "For cripes sake, was your mother scared by a horse?"

HOW TO EAT PEAS WITH A KNIFE

Tell pea it is about to be devoured. Pea will freeze to the spot.

Inform pea it does not know its vegetables. Pea will feel deeply hurt. Will give up.

Apply mixture of one half glue and one half sugar to bottom of pea. Pea will stay motionless.

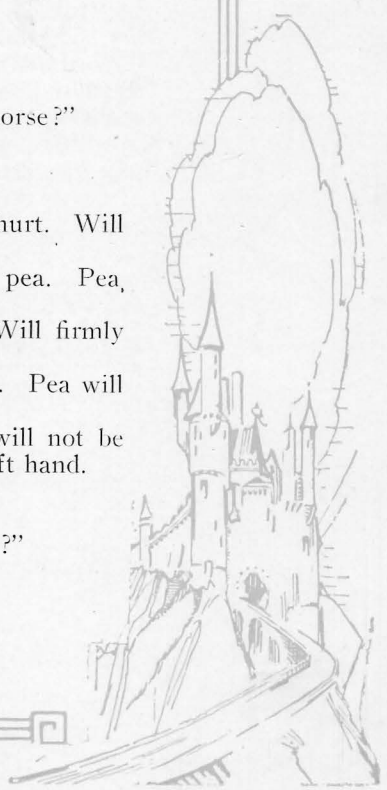

Tell pea it is not on the square. Pea will resent implication. Will firmly hold its ground.

Ask pea if it realizes it is a legumious branch of the genius pisum. Pea will decide there is no joy left in life. Will pass out.

Surround pea with wall of mashed potatoes and gravey. Pea will not be able to roll off. Or, better yet, hold pea on knife with forefinger of left hand.

Lane: "Darling, in the moonlight your teeth are like pearls."
It: "Oh indeed—and when were you in the moonlight with Pearl?"

"Do you pet?"
"Does a duck swim?"
"Whoin hell said anything about ducks? Answer my question!"

No matter how dark the night you can always break a street lamp with an axe.

So they went canoeing. The soft velvety twilight had begun to spread its romantic, dreamy, wistful touch o'er the lake and wooded glen. The girl reclined gracefully in the bow of the canoe—moonbeams played about her curly locks and caressed her soft cheeks producing a picture of beauty so sweet, so entrancing, so overpowering that the man in the stern was completely lost, carried to another world entirely under the spell of the fresh young beauty. He sent the canoe shimmering through the water with strong even strokes oblivious to all save the girl facing him in bow.

The canoe was gliding along close to the bank within a short distance of the wood from where the soft cooing of birds to their mates could be heard and from where those characteristic night sounds (appreciated only by lovers of nature) emitted from time to time enhancing the quiet beauty and tranquility of the scene.

The immensity of the great outdoors at twilight and the work of the little Love God had woven a spell over the man and his companion. There was no need of either expressing a thought audibly such a complete veil of mutual understanding had presented itself that all else was superfluous.

Suddenly the girl leaned forward and spoke: "Gosh! ain't this swell."

He knocked the ashes from his pipe and killed her
